DEMOCRATS IN THE SENATE ASHAMED TO HEAR TILLMAN

All Filed Out When He Began a Wild Tirade on Ancient History and the Negro Question in the South.

OPPOSITION TO THE PHILIPPINE BILL HURT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., May 7.—There is no water cure, sand cure, red shirt cure or any other kind of cure for Tillman. During the discussion of the Philippine bill in the senate today, he let out the pent-up invective of weeks and out-Tillmaned even Tillman himself. In violence of ideas and language, in sectional hatred and political bitterness, he made such a speech as has not been heard in public discussion in many years. It was a cheap performance. But there appears to be a Tillman cure for his Democratic colleagues, for they fled from the senate and refused to become a party by their presence to such proceedings.

At no time after the first five minutes were there more than two or three Democrats in the chamber at one time. Nearly all the Republicans remained and there was evident distress on the faces of his personal friends on the majority side—and they are not a few—not at his onslaught, not at his political attacks, but because any United States senator on either side could be found to make such a speech now.

Mr. Tillman did not strike anyone, but the chamber was surcharged with quite as much excitement as when the hand-to-hand encounter occurred with his South Carolina colleague.

Senator Was Wildly Excited.

Time after time he grew red in the face, wildly waved his arms, pounded desks and chairs and jumped about in the aisle. When he was not doing one of these he was shaking his fists at the Republican side, to which he always referred as "you." Bitter ideas came to him and bitter words from him in torrents. The Tillman vocabulary is large, and he is never at a loss for a word, and, it must be said, a pat word, but today several times he could only groan when he wished to express himself.

It was all about the north and the south, and was brought on by an innocent little remark by Senator McComas, that there were cruelties in the civil war. Tillman asserted violently that the whites of the south would never yield to domination by the north or by the "niggers." He frankly described how the negroes had been defeated at the polls.

"When we get ready to put a nigger's face in the sand," he shouted, "we put his body there, too."

Advancing tragically toward the Republican side and wildly shaking his fist he dared any man there to rise in his place and say that he would not do the same. He said the south made its majorities whatever they pleased and that they would continue to do so as long as they pleased.

He blamed the north, and especially New England, for being responsible for this condition of affairs. He said the south was crushed, never whipped.

"We wore ourselves out whipping you," he hissed.

Senator Burton of Kansas, who followed Senator Tillman, began by saying:

The Speech a Revelation.

"I did not think this possible. I have never in my life heard a speech like this."

"Everybody," he said, "judges others by himself. The man who, upon this floor, can defend slavery and government by the shotgun cannot be expected to think very well of senators who are trying to carry good government to the Philippines. It is astonishing that a senator in one breath should make an appeal for unsullied government in the Philippines and in the next breath boast of crimes almost unparalleled in history. The senator from South Carolina may enjoy a monopoly of such speeches."

Mr. Burton said that by all parties the pending bill was conceded to be an excellent measure. He sharply arraigned the minority members for their attitude on the Philippine situation, declaring that they were supporting the Filipino insurgents while the majority senators were standing for the American army and the American government.

Democratic senators tonight are indignant that Mr. Tillman should become so violent and fear he has hurt their case. Meanwhile Republican senators say it is only the natural outcome of the kind of campaign the opposition has been waging against the Philippine bill and the army in the archipelago.

HARSH MEASURES IN PHILIPPINES NECESSARY

Secretary Root Says Military Commanders Based Their Action on That of President Lincoln.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—Secretary Root today submitted to the senate an answer to the resolution of May 1, calling for copies of any orders issued by Gen. Bell relative to reconcentration in Batangas and of the orders issued by Gen. Smith to Maj. Waller, referred to by the latter in his defense before the court-martial. The secretary also was asked to state whether these orders were approved by Gen. Chaffee or by the war department, when they were known to the department and when countermanded.

The secretary submits two orders by Gen. Bell, dated December 8 and 9 last. In the first Gen. Bell refers to the treachery of the natives, to their use of infernal machines and to their constant violation of all the rules of civilized warfare. Therefore, he declares that he is reluctantly obliged to avail himself of the right of retaliation under the regulations and to deal severely with persons who commit the acts denounced in general order No. 100. He says:

Harsh Measures Necessary.

"The reckless expedients adopted by the enemy, especially the policy of intimidation and assassination, leave to the brigade commander no other means of protecting either the lives of his subordinates, or those of peaceful or friendly citizens, or the interests of his government against the perfidious barbarous outrage, except the enforcement of the penalties authorized by the above cited laws of war.

"The brigade commander, therefore, announces for the information of all concerned that, wherever prisoners or unarmed or defenseless Americans or natives friendly to the United States government are murdered or assassinated for political reasons and this fact can be established, it is his purpose to execute a prisoner of war under the authority contained in sections 59 and 148. This prisoner of war will be selected by lot from among the officers or prominent citizens held as prisoners of war, and will be chosen when practicable from those who belong to the town where the murder or assassination occurred."

Order Promulgated by Lincoln.

The secretary explains that the order referred to was approved and promulgated by command of President Lincoln in 1863 and that the orders mentioned in the resolution and in Bell's order of December 13 were in strict conformity with the letter and spirit of this famous order, which, he says, "was a contribution to civilization of great and recognized value."

Camps Can Be Broken Up.

Another order transmitted is one by Maj. Gen. Lloyd Wheaton, dated Manila, March 24, 1902, upon the condition of the natives collected in the concentration camps, from which it appears that they were well fed and contented. Gen. Wheaton expresses the belief that the camps can be broken up within 60 days.

An important indorsement on this report is by Gen. Chaffee, in which he says:

"I do not understand that the authority of the United States can be indefinitely disputed by armed forces without efforts to terminate the resistance to that authority.

"On the other hand, I understand that all measures which are justified by the laws of war are to be applied in such form as will meet and defeat the method of warfare adopted by the enemy. If desperate in the last case, more desperate must be the attack to end it."

Going After Him.

MANY PERSONS INJURED IN RIOT AT BALL GAME

Roughs Started Fight at the Shadyside-High School Contest.

MANY WOMEN AND GIRLS WERE INJURED

The baseball game between nines of the Pittsburgh High school and the Shadyside academy, at the former's grounds yesterday was made the scene of a riot, in which scores of persons, including girls, women and non-combatants were severely injured.

There were over 400 spectators to witness the game. Shortly after the players had taken their positions on the field the spectators were treated to an all-round fist and stone fight. The fight was started by "rooters" for the High school. These young men are known as the "Winebiddle Toughs," and before the sixth inning was played they proved there was something in a name after all. The disturbance started in the grandstand, where, besides the young men spectators, there were also a large number of young girls who attend the games regularly. The presence of the girls had no effect whatever on the young men when the trouble was once well started, and on several occasions while the fighters were at each other, it was every one for himself.

Fight in Grandstand.

Some of the young men from the Shadyside school attempted to remonstrate with the roughs, and while the argument was in progress someone in the grandstand landed a blow on the jaw of a remonstrator. Almost immediately there was a scuffle, and in the mix-up young girls and other non-combatants were struck, and it was only by the utmost efforts of the professors of the schools and some of the young men, that many of those in the grandstand were not hurled over the railing.

While the fight was in progress young men clinched and rolled and stumbled down over the board seats to the railings, where they punched, scratched and tore each other, until almost exhausted. One of the toughs had a light club, which he used freely against the opponents of his gang.

Finally a policeman appeared and he capped the climax by attempting to arrest a number of the young men who had been attempting to separate the fighters.

Battle Was Continued.

When order was finally restored and the game resumed the roughs lined up along the high embankment outside the ball grounds. The game concluded with a score of 9 to 7 in favor of Shadyside and the members of the latter team hurriedly climbed into their 'bus and prepared to leave the grounds. When the 'bus made a start the roughs from their point of vantage hurled rocks at it.

The roughs turned their attention to Shadyside students who were leaving the grounds and rained a fusilade of stones into the crowd, inflicting many bruises. Some of the students returned to the fray and for more than an hour another battle raged, many more young fellows being hurt.

As a result of the fracas it is probable that hereafter the games will be conducted under the auspices of the police. The professors who have charge of the teams say the whole trouble is directly due to the unfortunate location of the High school baseball grounds, as the vicinity always provides a large crowd of toughs at the games. Police protection at the games, the professors and members of the ball team say, has been asked following trouble in the past, but no attention was ever paid to the request. The High school management says that the men who started yesterday's riot were among the older young men of the neighborhood, and it was impossible to keep them outside the grounds.

IMPORTANT TRIP OF INSPECTION IS IN PROGRESS

President Schwab and Other Officers of United States Steel Corporation in Pittsburgh to Consider Expansions.

OUTLAY OF $30,000,000 IS CONTINGENT ON TRIP

"Our tour of inspection is being made with the view of determining on enlargements and additions to operating facilities, in conformity with our general policy."

Such was the statement made by President Charles M. Schwab of the United States Steel Corporation at his East End residence last night, with reference to the visit being made to Pittsburgh by several of the general officers of the corporation and its constituent concerns.

It was suggested to Mr. Schwab that Pittsburgh people would be much interested in hearing something definite regarding the many reports that have been put afloat as to the location of proposed new tube works—whether they would be at McKeesport, Woodson, Neville Island, Lorain, O., or Conneaut. Mr. Schwab said:

"That is a matter we have not yet determined ourselves. Possibly before we leave here there may be something definite to announce." With this, Mr. Schwab asked to be relieved from further interviewing, saying that he had nothing to say of special interest to Pittsburgh.

As is fairly well known, the present trip of inspection of the United States Steel Corporation executives is to determine on the location of plant extensions which will cost in the aggregate upward of $30,000,000. President Schwab and his party arrived at Braddock from New York early yesterday morning in Mr. Schwab's private car. Later the car was brought to Pittsburgh and served as a special train to Bessemer, where it was transferred to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie tracks and taken to Dravosburg, then to McKeesport, where the National Tube Company works and the W. Dewees Woods sheet mills were inspected, after which the trip was made to Monessen.

Works inspected yesterday were those at Monessen, Demmler, the Edgar Thomson works, the Braddock and Donora wire plants and the Carrie furnaces. Today the officials expect to visit the Duquesne and Homestead steel works and the Howard Axle works. The rest of the week will be devoted to an inspection of other properties in the Pittsburgh district, the program not being definitely arranged.

Next Week's Program.

On Monday morning the party will leave for an inspection of the plants in the Shenango and Mahoning valleys. Then the inspection of the Wheeling district works may be taken up. From Wheeling the trip will be probably extended to include the western works and to Chicago. From Chicago a trip will probably be made to the northwest to visit the ore mines.

In the party arriving here yesterday from New York were the following: Charles M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel Corporation; James A. Gayley, first vice president; W. P. Dickson, second vice president; Veryl Preston, third vice president; Joseph H. Schwab, assistant to the president; George G. McMurtry, president of the American Sheet Steel Company; W. J. Graham, president of the American Tin Plate Company; W. E. Palmer, president of the American Steel and Wire Company; A. J. Major, president of the American Bridge Company, and P. T. Moen, vice president of the American Steel and Wire Company. The New York party was met here by W. E. Corey, president of the Carnegie and National Steel companies and the American Sheet Hoop Company; Col. Frank J. Hearne, president of the National Tube Company; former Judge E. J. Buffington of Chicago, president of the Illinois Steel Company; D. M. Clemson, president of the Pittsburgh Steamship Company and a director of the steel corporation, and G. Kerr, manager of the corporation's interests.

The Pig Men Are Pittsburghers.

Pittsburgh's importance in the organization of the steel corporation is reflected in the fact that the majority of this inspection party of general officers is composed of Pittsburghers. In the Pittsburgh list there properly belong the names of Messrs. Schwab, Gayley, Dickson, Preston, Joseph H. Schwab, McMurtry, Palmer, Hearne, Corey, Clemson and Kerr.

On the trip out of this district on Monday former Judge James H. Reed of Pittsburgh, a director in the corporation, will probably join the party. Vice President W. H. Schiller of the National Tube Company and a large number of the Pittsburgh general officials of the constituent companies joined the New York party here yesterday for the inspection.

On Saturday night, at the close of the Pittsburgh district inspection the New York and other general officials and their wives in Pittsburgh will break bread at the Hotel Schenley. It will be a party of two score and the hotel people are making a special effort to excel everything that has ever taken place at the hostelry.

TUG RUNS DOWN PLEASURE LAUNCH, DROWNING SEVEN

Sunday School Class, Returning from an Outing, Meets With Mishap in Maumee River.

ONLY FOUR SURVIVORS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Toledo, O., May 7.—The naptha launch Frolic, carrying members of a Sunday school class, was run down in the Maumee river near this city tonight by the tug Arthur Woods, and seven of the young people were drowned.

The launch is owned by Joseph W. Hepburn of this city, who invited 11 young people to take an evening ride with him. They started out on a trip to Lake Erie early in the evening, and were returning when the accident happened. Mr. Hepburn, Miss Clara Marks, Arthur Marks and Miss Grace Lowe are the only survivors.

Mr. Hepburn states that he saw the lights of the approaching tug, and thinking it was bound straight down the river turned to the east. When nearly abreast of the launch the tug suddenly turned to the east in order to make the dock at Ironville, and before the launch could get out of the way it was struck by the tug and turned over and sunk about 100 from the dock. Mr. Hepburn caught hold of the side of the tug and the Lowe girl grasped his leg and both were pulled on the tug. The Marks girl was picked up from a cushion on which she floated. Arthur Marks also was fortunate enough to grab a piece of wreckage and was picked up by those on the tug. The other seven members of the party were drowned, and the river is now being dragged for their bodies, but they will probably not be recovered before daylight.

The tug brought the rescued to this city. Mr. Hepburn was not able to give the names of the drowned and their companions who were saved were not able to talk before being taken home. Capt. Al Fitts was in charge of the tug, and says that the launch showed no lights and that he was not aware of its presence until the tug struck her.

Sixty Bodies Recovered.

CAIRO, ILL., May 7.—The body of Mrs. Patrick Burke of Hillsboro, Ky., a victim of the burned steamer City of Pittsburgh, was taken from the river a few miles above this city today. A total of 60 bodies has been recovered.

ELKIN AGREES TO JOINT DEBATE WITH COL. WATRES

The Two Candidates for the Governorship Will Talk Friday Night.

MEETING AT WILKESBARRE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Harrisburg, Pa., May 7.—Attorney General Elkin, in a letter which he mailed tonight to ex-Congressman Morgan B. Williams and Col. Charles A. Miner, who are running for state delegates in the interest of ex-Lieut.-Gov. Watres' candidacy for governor in the Wilkesbarre legislative district, where primaries will be held on Saturday, accepts an invitation to a joint debate with Col. Watres.

Elkin's canvass in Luzerne has been in charge of Sol. A. Bacharach, a clerk in Gov. Stone's office, who has been given the credit by the Elkinites of winning the delegates in the Third, Fourth and Fifth districts of that county. Recognizing Bacharach as Elkin's manager, Williams and Miner wrote him requesting that he arrange to have a joint discussion at Wilkesbarre between Watres and Elkin on Friday night.

Bacharach called Elkin's attention to the matter and tonight the attorney general wrote them the following letter:

"My attention has just been called to an open letter in your evening papers addressed to a citizen of your city, asking that an arrangement be made to have a joint discussion between the Hon. Louis A. Watres and myself next Friday night.

"I have no personal or political representative in your city, and my campaign rests entirely with your people. You have, therefore, made a mistake in addressing your letter to any individual as my representative. I most cheerfully waive the irregularity, however, and accept the suggestion you have made to meet Mr. Watres on the same platform to discuss before your people the issues involved in the present campaign.

"In my opinion, the people should be given the fullest opportunity to hear all the issues discussed by the candidates themselves, so that they may vote intelligently at your primaries. You will please confer with the chairman of the county committee so that arrangements may be made to properly conduct the debate in a spirit of equity and fairness.

"I shall be at the Hotel Sterling after 12:30 on Friday and will be pleased to meet you there so that further details may be arranged."

UNCLE SAM IS NOW READY FOR THE BEEF TRUST

Attorney General Knox Has Revised the Bill of Complaint.

NOW IN PRINTER'S HANDS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., May 7.—Attorney General Knox today completed his revision of the draft of the bill of complaint against the beef trust, and sent it to the printer. The attorney general declined to make any statement as to its provisions, and former Judge Day, who is actively associated with him as special counsel, was equally reticent.

The big news in connection with the government's proceedings against the beef octopus is said to be that the bill of complaint will ask for the immediate enjoining of the various packing houses from further combining for the lowering of prices at the stock yards; for the raising of prices on the butchers' block, for the blacklisting of dealers and employes and the various other unlawful acts which have made its name an object of wrath to the whole American people.

By an immediate injunction is meant that, simultaneously with the filing of the bill of complaint and the issuance of an order by the United States judge in Chicago, the beef trust will be as completely blocked in its efforts to filch dollars illegally from the pockets of the public as though armed United States marshals had stepped in and taken its agents into custody and possessed themselves of the great packing plants. In other words, as a lawyer put it today, "it is like putting a man in jail without bail and trying him afterward."

In this case so thorough has been the work of Former Judge Day and District Attorney Bethea that the department is understood to feel perfectly satisfied that it has ample evidence on which to base its request for an immediate preliminary injunction, and it expects that request to be granted.

Attorney General Knox and Former Judge Day had a final conference this afternoon on the subject of the injunction proceedings, and the attorney general announced that he might have something to say within a few days with reference to the matter.

FULLER COMBINE OWNS ENTRANCE TO BALTIMORE

Ordinance Disposing of the Western Maryland Road Was Signed Yesterday.

WORK TO BEGIN AT ONCE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Baltimore, Md., May 7.—"Gentlemen, the duty is done. Approved May 7, 1902."

With these words used by Mayor Haynes this morning the city's holdings of every description in the Western Maryland railroad passed into the hands of the Fuller syndicate and the municipality got rid of a troublesome asset which came into its possession in 1860, when, by an ordinance authorized by the state legislature, the mayor, city register and city comptroller were authorized to indorse the first mortgage bonds of the Western Maryland Railroad Company to an amount not exceeding $250,000. The mayor's private office was filled with city officials at the time the momentous ordinance was signed.

Mayor Hayes has been asked to go to New York and meet Mr. George J. Gould, the latter having expressed a desire to have an exhaustive talk with his honor over the general situation. Mr. Hayes may accept the invitation and make the trip at an early date. There is also some talk of having Mr. Gould come to Baltimore before very long and go over the entire field here, and then make a trip over the Western Maryland. Mr. Hayes will accompany that party whenever it is made. Steps have already been taken for practical work.

Gen. Hood has been requested to have the Western Maryland engineering corps proceed as soon as possible in making surveys along the proposed Gwynns Falls route to tidewater, where the terminals are to be located. The corps has been engaged in making surveys on the third division of the Western Maryland railroad, which is about completed, so that the corps can be transferred at once to the surveys for the terminal line.

Considerable data, maps and plans are already at the disposal of the syndicate, at least as a starting point. This includes data in regard to the construction of a 10,000-foot tunnel through the mountains in the vicinity of Monterey Gap. This tunnel is to obviate the heavy grades on the Western Maryland, and is considered absolutely necessary for the successful operation of heavy traffic.

PENNYPACKER INDORSED IN LAWRENCE COUNTY

Philadelphian's Candidacy for Governor Enlists New Champions.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., May 7.—The Republican state convention this afternoon passed resolutions indorsing the nomination of Judge Pennypacker of Philadelphia for governor. The action is the first expression given by the delegates of their choice. The following was the resolution adopted:

Believing that the best interests of the Republican party of Pennsylvania demand the selection for governor of a man of recognized ability, unquestioned integrity and one free from all factional entanglements and affiliations, and believing that the Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker embraces all these elements and that his nomination would insure a strong party, a splendid victory and an able, faithful and honest administration, we, the undersigned delegates from Lawrence county, do by agree, each with the others, that we heartily indorse the candidacy of Mr. Pennypacker and promise him our vote and influence in the coming state convention.

SAMUEL S. HAMILTON
EDWIN L. ATKES
WILLIAM T. ELMORE.

COUDERSPORT, PA., May 7.—The Republican county convention, held here yesterday, was harmonious. John Sherman de is the party's candidate for judge, Congressman Deemer is the choice for governor, election, the convention granting him the right to name his own conferees. The delegates to the state convention are E. Logus and G. C. Marion, unInstructed. Resolutions which had been prepared by friends of Elkin were not adopted.

WIDOW OF MARTYRED PRESIDENT REMEMBERED

Each Day Flowers from the White House Are Sent Her by Mrs. Roosevelt.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—Through the thoughtfulness of Mrs. Roosevelt, as by her order, the gardeners of the White House each day gather a cluster of the choicest blossoms of the flower beds in the conservatory and these are packed and sent to Mrs. McKinley at her home in Canton. This is a daily act of Mrs. Roosevelt's graciousness which is unknown to the general public and only to many of her intimates.

Great interest is always manifested in Washington in the widow of the martyred president, and instead of passing from public thought when she went to her Washington on her sad journey to Canton she is daily in the memory of many people in all walks of life here.

...PS CONTEND THAT J. O. BROWN WILL BE FOR ELKIN

Court House Officials Say It Is an Absolute Certainty.

QUAY FEALTY ALL BOSH

Allegheny Politicians Relieved in Talk of Terrance for Lieutenant Governor—Much Speculation Regarding Congressional Candidate.

The court house leaders say it is a certainty that City Recorder Brown will support Attorney General Elkin in his ambition to capture the Republican gubernatorial nomination. They declare that Brown has an understanding with Gov. Stone and that just previous to the state convention the recorder will come out for Elkin and attempt to deliver Elkin delegates from Pittsburgh and the country districts.

A court house official, who is a candidate for re-election, spoke emphatically yesterday as follows: "Recorder Brown will be for Elkin. It has been argued that if he would cut loose from Gov. Stone he might stand some show of being elected recorder for three years in 1903, but he is wise enough to know that the chance of succeeding himself is a remote possibility. He would have nothing to gain by deserting Stone and about nine months of his official career to lose if he should do so."

Talk of Fealty to Quay a Bluff.

The court house politicians say that the talk of fealty to Senator Quay on the part of organization men is for a purpose and has been barren of results. It was the hope of the organization leaders that if a pledge was given to Quay that the Allegheny county delegates would be men opposed to Elkin a check might be given the Citizens movement in this county, but it is seen now that no result can be accomplished. The organization people realize that they can no longer hope for anything through a compromise and have accordingly determined to fight it out to a finish. "We might as well fight it out," said Register Fred W. Edwards, "as to die a-dealing."

To fight it out, as Register Edwards, Arch Mackrell and other court house leaders reason is the only thing left for them to do, means, according to their statements, that the Allegheny county delegates will be anti-Quay at the state convention.

An Agreement With J. O. Brown.

Register Edwards, County Recorder George M. von Bonnhorst and Contractor W. E. Thompson and their lieutenants have, it is said, agreed to turn over their delegates to Recorder Brown at the state convention in return for the latter's support at the county conventions, at which they hope to entrench themselves in the matter of continuing in office by securing nominations.

Although city hall politicians state that the announcement that Francis J. Torrance may be a candidate for lieutenant governor relieves them from an embarrassing predicament. Samuel C. Grier, who is one of the delegates from Allegheny to the state convention, has declared that the Allegheny delegates will vote for Torrance for anything he may want. While they have expressed themselves ready to vote for Torrance for governor, the delegates say that it placed them in an embarrassing position as Recorder Murphy was expected by Gov. Stone to get the Allegheny city delegates for Elkin.

If Torrance is a candidate for lieutenant governor instead of governor the Allegheny delegates will have an opportunity of voting for both Elkin and Torrance, although the latter is now proposed as a running mate for Judge Pennypacker by the anti-Elkin faction.

Possible Congressional Candidates.

Maj. A. P. Burchfield has been suggested as the Citizens candidate for congress in the new downtown district. Maj. Burchfield formerly resided in the Twentieth ward, which is in Congressman Dalzell's district, but he moved recently to the Hotel Schenley, where he now resides, making him a resident of the Fourteenth ward and eligible as a candidate in the downtown district.

Judge W. D. Porter had a conference yesterday with Register Brown regarding the organization nomination for congress in the downtown district. Judge Porter has been prominently mentioned as a probable candidate for the nomination, but according to his intimate friends he has not consented to run. His friends state that Recorder Brown has urged him to become a candidate in order to strengthen the county ticket, but the scheme did not arouse Judge Porter's enthusiasm.

Judge Porter declined to make any statement yesterday, but his friends declared that he would decline to run and that Recorder Brown was not willing, for political reasons, to allow the judge's refusal to become public at present. James Francis Burke says he is still a candidate and that if he is a candidate for congress he will run on the Republican ticket.

The managers of the Citizens' party state that great care will be taken in selecting candidates for their county ticket. Only clean, able men will be chosen. The citizens are working industriously to get their organization and are making great preparations for a rousing rally at Carnegie hall, Allegheny, on May 16.

It was reported yesterday that Attorney General Elkin was in town but the rumor proved to be unfounded. The attorney general is in Harrisburg and will remain there until tomorrow.

RUMORS NOT CONFIRMED.

No Knowledge of Peoples Gas Company Ordinances.

A report was current yesterday that at next Monday night's meeting of Pittsburgh councils ordinances would be introduced granting franchises to a new heat, light and power corporation, which would enter into active competition with the big Philadelphia Company. It was stated that the Peoples Natural Gas Company, in which J. N. Pew is the principal stockholder, would be the nucleus of this new corporation.

Dr. George W. McNeil, chairman of the corporations committee of councils, stated that he had heard of no such ordinances and that he did not believe it would be possible to get any such measures through in opposition to the Philadelphia Company.

"The machine is still in control of select councils by a small majority, and even if a bill, opposed by the Philadelphia Company passed councils, Recorder Brown would veto it," he said.

SUGAR EXPERTS ON THE STAND

CUBAN SELLERS WOULD RECEIVE BENEFITS OF REDUCTION.

George E. Payne of Havana Claims That the Real Natives of the Island Would Not Necessarily Be in Any Better Circumstances.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—(Special.)—Manuel Rionda, a member of the sugar brokerage firm of Czarnikow, McDougall & Co., of New York, was before the senate committee on relations with Cuba, today, in response to an inquiry from Senator Platt, he said that the Cuban seller would receive the entire benefit from a reduction of the duty on sugar, and that the American Sugar Refining Company would not be benefited by the concession. The Cuban producers could hold their sugar and the refiners would be compelled to go to another market, with the result that they would advance the price in that market and thus be squeezed themselves, instead of squeezing the Cuban producers.

George E. Bryson, newspaper editor and commissioner of deeds in Havana, stated that one-half of the sugar of Cuba is produced by American citizens and American corporations, and he estimated that 20 per cent is controlled by Spanish citizens. He knew of no large plantations in Cuba which are owned by Cuban citizens, and he did not know of a single central, or sugar factory, owned by Cubans. He did not think that, as a rule, the peons or colonos who grow the sugar would receive any benefit from an increase in the price.

Oscar W. Donner, advertising agent for the American Coffee Company, was questioned by Senator Teller concerning a pamphlet entitled "Facts About Cuba," which the witness said he had compiled. The reading matter was composed of extracts from newspapers advocating a reduction of the duty on sugar. There had, he said, been about 350,000 of these pamphlets printed at a cost of $1,100. He had consulted Mr. Havemeyer about getting it up, the object being to counteract the effect of charges against the sugar trust. He said that he had many of these articles reprinted in "patent inside" papers, paying for their insertion, but that he had never had them printed in other papers.

QUARANTINE IS LIFTED.

Allegheny General Hospital Is Freed From the Smallpox Ban.

The smallpox quarantine established on April 24 in the medical ward of the Allegheny General hospital was lifted last night and the 14 patients, four female nurses, two male attendants, and one physician were released.

During the time of quarantine not a single case of the disease developed. After the first day the scare abated. The patients in the ward all improved in health, and last night several of them were able to leave the hospital.

THE WEATHER.

Warmer.

The weather man regained his old standing in this community yesterday by sidetracking the hot wave and giving the people of Pittsburgh a bright day, with just the amount of warmth that both the heavy and lightweights were able to enjoy. Being looked upon with favor seemed to please the man who makes the weather, and just to show that he could be affable for over one day he last night promised to see to it that the weather today will be similar to that of yesterday, but a little warmer. Although there was a decided fall of the high temperatures in nearly all cities in the country, the indications from the west point to a general warming up between now and Sunday, which the weather man, in his own defense, pleads is generally a fine day in this section.

MINERS' HANDS ARE STAYED BY THEIR LEADERS

Executive Committee Meets at Scranton, but Reaches No Decision.

OPERATORS STAND FIRM

President Mitchell of Mine Workers Says No Word Has Been Received from the Employers—Some Delegates Opposed to Radical Action.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Scranton, Pa., May 7.—The miners' representatives were in session all of today, but nothing was done of which any definite knowledge would be given the public. The meeting, as far as the outside world knows, made absolutely no change in the situation.

The 34 men forming the committee went into session at 10 o'clock in Carpenter's hall and remained together until 4:45, excepting for an hour and a half at noon. When the meeting adjourned President Mitchell gave out the following meager and indefinite response to a request for an account of what had been done:

"The committee is canvassing the situation very carefully. No decision has as yet been reached. The committee will meet again tomorrow at 9 o'clock a. m."

Further than this nothing authoritative could be learned of the proceedings. When asked if anything had been heard from the operators Mr. Mitchell said:

"I have heard nothing from the operators. No concessions have been granted and I know nothing of any movement to secure concessions."

Waiting for Developments.

The comparatively early adjournment of today's meeting has led to a general belief here that the miners are waiting for something to turn up, despite the positive public statements of President Mitchell that he knows of no mediatory moves. It would be no disappointment to expectations here if the committee continued in session until the end of the week.

District No. 7 holds the key to the situation. There are 28 delegates. District No. 1, with 14 delegates, is strongly in favor of a strike; district No. 9, with seven delegates, is opposed to radical action, while district No. 7, represented by seven delegates, is apparently undecided on what action to take.

The usual crop of sensational stories is afloat tonight, among them one to the effect that the companies have a thousand men assembled at Buffalo ready to come on and man the pumps and hoisting engines should the firemen and engineers go out with the miners in case of a strike, as State Secretary Mullahy of the Stationary Firemen's association has declared they would do.

President Baer Non-Committal.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 7.—President Baer of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Company still refuses to break his resolution of silence regarding the threatened struggle. He is apparently undisturbed over the situation and in reply to questions concerning the probable outcome of what was being done to bring about an agreement he said:

"I would be glad to give some news, but as I advised Mitchell not to talk it would not be politic for me to say anything in connection with the situation."

From another source which is deemed trustworthy it was learned that Chairman Thomas of the Erie and President Olyphant of the Delaware & Hudson were unyielding in their determination not to grant any of the miners' demands, while President Truesdale of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western was disposed to make some concessions. The attitude of President Baer and the other anthracite presidents was not stated.

Shamokin Miners Anxious.

SHAMOKIN, PA., May 7.—Bulletin boards were surrounded by crowds of miners this evening, who were disappointed when word came announcing the adjournment of the mine workers' conference until tomorrow without definite action being taken. Most of the men think some sort of an offer from the operators prolonged the conference and that it may avert a strike.

Work was resumed at the Sterling colliery today, which was tied up by 300 employes last Monday on account of three union men being discharged. The strikers would not resume work until two of the men were reinstated. The colliery is operated by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company.

SPECIAL RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

Masses Today for Archbishop Corrigan—Ascension Day Events.

In St. Paul's cathedral at all the masses this morning prayers will be offered for Archbishop Corrigan, the deceased metropolitan of the New York diocese. The announcement of his death will be made from the pulpit at all the masses, and at 10:30 o'clock mass the Rev. Father J. F. Regis Canevin will deliver a brief memorial address.

Today is Ascension day and in the Protestant Episcopal churches there will be services appropriate to the day. At the Church of the Ascension the service this morning will be especially impressive, marking the 13th anniversary of the founding of the church. Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead and several of the clergy will be present. A special musical program has been provided.

In St. John's church, Main and Butler streets, Bishop Whitehead will administer confirmation this evening to a large class.

Following out its custom of attending divine service on Ascension day Tancred commandery, No. 46, Knights Templar, will attend services in the First Lutheran church, Lecthburg, this evening. The commandery will meet in the asylum in Fifth avenue at 5:30 o'clock, and, headed by Rocereto's band, will march to the West Penn station in Allegheny.

BISHOP POTTER ILL.

Faints While Making an Address at an Entertainment.

NEW YORK, May 7.—Bishop Henry C. Potter of the Episcopal diocese of New York, was suddenly taken ill today, but his illness is said tonight not to be of an alarming nature. He attended an entertainment, at which he was scheduled as the principal speaker. When the time came for him to begin his address it was found that he had gone to sleep in his chair. When he was aroused he recovered himself immediately and began to speak. The bishop had been speaking only a few minutes when he tottered and fainted. He recovered consciousness in a minute or two. He was sent in his carriage to his home.

BODY WILL REST AT ARLINGTON

ARRANGEMENTS FOR FUNERAL OF REAR ADMIRAL SAMPSON.

The President, the Navy and the Nation Will Be Represented at the Service. Naval Cadets and Many High Officials to Follow Hearse.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.—Under plans adopted today by the navy department the nation, as well as the navy, will do honor to the memory of Rear Admiral Sampson. Secretary of the Navy Moody issued invitations today to President Roosevelt and members of the cabinet and requested the president pro tempore of the senate and speaker of the house to appoint a delegation of both houses to attend the funeral.

It was decided today that Arlington will be the final resting place of the remains of the rear admiral. This decision was reached by Mrs. Sampson, widow of the deceased officer, Mrs. Cluverius, her daughter, Lieutenant Cluverius, her son-in-law, and Captain F. E. Chadwick, Rear Admiral Sampson's chief of staff during the war with Spain.

The funeral services will be held on Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Church of the Covenant. The body will be borne from the house to the church, and thence to the grave. It will be escorted by a battalion of naval cadets, two battalions of bluejackets from the battleship Alabama and the protected cruiser Olympia, a battalion of marines and the marine band.

The escort will be commanded by Rear Admiral James H. Sands. Beside the hearse will march a detachment of bluejackets and in the carriages will be the honorary pall bearers, made up of the most distinguished officers of the navy, headed by Admiral Dewey. In addition to Admiral Dewey, these officers have been requested to act as honorary pall bearers: Rear Admiral F. J. Higginson, Rear Admiral Henry C. Taylor, Captain F. A. Cook, Captain Clark, Captain Chadwick, Captain McCalla, Captain Folger, Commander Wainwright and Lieutenant Commander Alexander Sharp.

Rear Admiral Remey, Rear Admiral Howell and Rear Admiral Watson may serve as honorary pall bearers.

BALTIMORE, May 7.—Agreeable to the wishes of Rear Admiral Schley, the presentation of the silver service made from coins taken from the Spanish cruiser Cristobal Colon has been indefinitely postponed. Owing to the death of Admiral Sampson, Admiral Schley requested the commission having the matter in hand to abandon the social function which had been arranged for tonight.

QUEEN'S CONDITION IS MORE HOPEFUL

Bulletin From Wilhelmina's Bedside Is of Satisfactory Nature.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

THE HAGUE, May 7.—Tonight's bulletin from Castle Loo announced that the condition of her majesty was "satisfactory up to the present."

The continued hopeful tenor of the medical bulletins from Castle Loo is dissipating the acute anxiety of the queen's surroundings. The prince consort left the palace today for the first time since Sunday.

There is a clause in the Dutch constitution which provides that if the queen has a son her majesty shall abdicate in his favor when he reaches his 18th birthday; if, on the other hand, no child is born within five years the Dutch parliament has the power to dissolve the marriage.

WERE BURIED TOGETHER.

Remains of the Late August Ammon and Wife Interred at Homewood.

The funeral services of the late August Ammon, who died last Monday in this city, and of his wife, Christina W. Ammon, who died in Philadelphia a few hours earlier, were held yesterday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church in Wood street, and were largely attended by sympathizing friends and relatives. Among those present were many well-known members of the bench and bar and people prominent in financial institutions, in business affairs and social circles.

As the two caskets, covered with masses of beautiful flowers, were taken into the church and carried up an aisle to the space in front of the pulpit, they were preceded by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander, and followed by the immediate members of the family, while the organist played an appropriate funeral selection. The honorary pallbearers were Judge W. G. Hawkins, Judge P. H. Collier, Judge J. M. Kennedy, Robert Pitcairn, James R. Mellon, William G. McCandless, R. S. Davis, Geoffrey Stengle, John B. Jackson and A. E. Succop.

The funeral service of the Presbyterian church was conducted by Dr. Alexander and several beautiful hymns were sung by the quartet of the First Presbyterian church between the prayers and the reading of passages of Scripture.

At the conclusion of the services the remains were privately interred at Homewood cemetery.

POPE SENDS NOTE OF CONDOLENCE

ARCHBISHOP CORRIGAN'S DEATH CAUSES GRIEF IN ROME.

Many Thousands View the Body of the Dead Prelate in New York Cathedral. Catafalque Guarded by Squad of Soldiers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, May 7.—The Rev. Dr. Ferranti, Italian secretary to Archbishop Ireland, made public tonight a cablegram received at the archiepiscopal residence from Cardinal Rampolla, pontifical secretary of state at Rome, expressing the sorrow of Pope Leo at the demise of Mgr. Corrigan. The cablegram was addressed to the Rev. Dr. Ferranti, and is as follows:

"The holy father with great sorrow learns of the death of the grand archbishop whom he hoped to see in Rome very soon. His holiness, who appreciates very highly the especial merits of the dead prelate, expresses his sympathy from the depth of his heart for the Metropolitan church of New York and he prays God to give to the soul of the great archbishop the repose of the just and the premium of eternal glory."

It is estimated that 20,000 persons viewed the remains of Archbishop Corrigan in the cathedral tonight.

At 6 o'clock a guard of honor from the Catholic club entered the cathedral and commenced the night watch. In addition to this guard of honor a squad of 20 soldiers from the Sixty-ninth regiment marched into the cathedral. A non-commissioned officer, an orderly and three privates took a position at the foot of the catafalque and the remaining militiamen were stationed in the center aisles aiding the police in forming the lines.

Bishop McQuaid of Rochester has requested Cardinal Gibbons to intone the pontifical requiem mass on Friday morning in his stead. Cardinal Gibbons has consented to perform the service.

FEWER TEACHERS.

Allegheny Board of School Controllers May Take Action Toward Reducing Number.

A reduction in the number of teachers employed in the Allegheny schools is proposed by members of the board of school controllers.

Allegheny has two musical instructors who receive annually $1,600 each. One is Prof. William Davis and the other Prof. R. M. Martin, who has been a music instructor in the North Side schools for 40 years. The principals and some of the members of the central board allege that the employment of these instructors is an unnecessary expense.

The annual election of the Allegheny teachers takes place early in June, and a fight will be made at the next meeting of the board of school controllers to declare vacant the positions now held by Messrs. Davis and Martin.

Exhaustion of Nerve Force Is Common In Springtime.

Paine's Celery Compound

Banishes Nervous Prostration, Hysteria, and Sleeplessness.

Any intelligent man or woman can easily detect victims of nervous troubles by taking a ten minute walk on any of the crowded streets of our cities or towns. The observer will note countenances full of feverish anxiety, harassed looks, unsteady hands, faltering steps, twitching muscles, pallid faces, and startled, anxious looks when unusual noises are made. Such people are, without doubt, victims of nervous prostration, hysteria or insomnia. The whole system suffers—the brain, the spinal cord, and the sympathetic system.

It is unnecessary to dilate intinutely on the causes of nervousness. Business cares and disappointments, haste after riches and honor, social and household worries, sexual and alcoholic excesses, watching and anxiety, and loss of near and dear ones, all contribute to the breaking down of the nervous organism of men and women.

In earnest words we set before this afflicted class the truth that Paine's Celery Compound affords a speedy and sure cure for all forms of nervous disease. The great medicine is a perfect restorer of nerve force and power; a sure builder and strengthener of the weak and debilitated system.

Paine's Celery Compound has enabled thousands in every city and town of our land to renew and invigorate their health and keep their places in business and in society. In all large centers where nervous diseases are common the best physicians prescribe Paine's Celery Compound with continued success.

A few bottles of nature's health restorer used during the month of May will completely banish all nervous disorders, by giving new nerve force, purer blood, better digestion, normal appetite, and refreshing sleep. PITTSBURGH GAZETTE'S CABLE FEATURES

COMPLETE VICTORY FOR REVOLUTIONISTS IN SANTO DOMINGO

Last City to Hold Out Against Rebels Surrenders and All Is Quiet.

AMERICAN MINISTER DEMANDS PROTECTION

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MONTE CHRISTI, SANTO DOMINGO, May 7.—Late today it became known here that Puerto Plata, the last city to hold out against the rebels, had capitulated to the revolutionists, who today took possession of the town and the fort. Gen. Deschamps, the former governor, embarked on board a French steamer bound for Haiti. All is quiet at Puerto Plata.

Further confirmation was received today of the surrender of San Domingo, capital of Santo Domingo, Friday last, to the revolutionary forces commanded by Vice President Vasquez. The provisional government established there will retain power until new elections have been held.

When San Domingo city surrendered to Vice President Vasquez, President Jiminez sought refuge in the French consulate there.

The revolutionary troops entered the capital quietly. There was no enthusiasm shown by the population at the entry of the victorious army.

The approach of the revolutionists to the capital was announced after two days' heavy fighting between the government troops and the forces of Gen. Vasquez, during which many were killed or wounded on both sides.

When it became known that Gen. Vasquez threatened to attack San Domingo the United States minister, William F. Powell, as dean of the diplomatic corps, requested the Dominican government to inform him regarding the arrangements made to protect the lives and property of foreigners, adding that in case no precautions were taken he would consider it his duty to take such measures to provide for the safety as the situation demanded. The nature of the reply of the government was not made public.

ATTEMPT MADE TO CENSURE SPEAKER

Nationalists in Commons Fail to Vindicate John Dillon.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, May 7.—The Nationalist members of the house of commons unsuccessfully attempted tonight to force a vote of censure on the speaker, William Court Gully, in connection with the suspension for one week of John Dillon, Nationalist, who on March 20 addressed unparliamentary language to Joseph Chamberlain.

J. J. Mooney, Nationalist, had given notice that he would move to censure the speaker, and when Mr. Gully took the chair the Conservatives and Liberal members greeted him with cheers. The occupants of the Irish benches remained seated.

Mr. Mooney, in moving his resolution, declared that Mr. Dillon's language upon the occasion in question had been parliamentary until he had been provoked by the grossly offensive and unparliamentary taunt from Mr. Chamberlain, and that the speaker should have compelled Mr. Chamberlain to withdraw his remark.

John Redmond, Nationalist, in seconding the motion made by Mr. Mooney, said he formally accepted responsibility for it, and the fact that the member who had been insulted belonged to the minority, while the offender was a prominent member of the government, aggravated the case. Mr. Redmond said he hoped the rules enforced against the Irish members would also be used to protect them in "this foreign parliament."

Mr. Mooney's motion was defeated by a vote of 63 to 398.

GEN. CHAFFEE GOES TO ISLAND OF MINDANAO

It Is Thought His Presence There Will Have Quieting Effect on Moros.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

MANILA, May 7.—Gen. Chaffee sailed today on the transport Ingalls for the Lanao district of the island of Mindanao. Gen. Davis telegraphed that he thought the presence of the military governor of the Philippines would have a favorable effect on the prominent Moros, and Gen. Chaffee immediately replied by going to Mindanao. He has ordered Gen. Davis to arrange a conference with the prominent surviving sultans and Dattos.

A post will be established at Camp Vickars, where the troops are stationed. Little information can be obtained concerning the wounded Americans. Gen. Davis thinks only two or three amputations will be necessary, and that few deaths are likely to occur. Lieut. Jossman's case is now considered to be more serious than that of Capt. Moore. Gen. Chaffee took with him a quantity of medicine supplies and two doctors.

The ports of the Island of Samar have been ordered to be opened to trade on May 15.

SALISBURY DECLARES ENGLAND STANDS FIRM ON TERMS OF PEACE

The Premier Thinks Boer War Has Brought New Glory to Britons.

DENIES MISTAKE IN ENTERING CONFLICT

LONDON, May 7.—Lord Salisbury, during his speech today at the annual grand habitation of the Primrose league here, said the government had not receded an iota from its previous peace terms to the Boers.

At the same time, he said, the country must not expect the "ashes of past conflicts" to be extinguished immediately. Great Britain had had a great and serious war, but admitting that misery and suffering had been caused, it must be recognized that the power, prestige, influence and magic effect of our great empire are more potent, more efficient and more admirable than ever before.

"We have suffered," continued the premier, "but we have greatly won." It was impossible not to feel that the efforts of the people of the country have, in some cases, not been worthily recognized. The other day Mr. Morley asked if there was a single member of the cabinet of 1899 who, if he could have foreseen the results of the policy on which they were then launching the country, would not have checked the diplomacy leading to such deplorable results.

As a member of that cabinet he (Lord Salisbury) wished to meet this statement with the most indignant denial. "The war had been used," he said, "by some politicians for the squalid purpose of injuring their opponents. When a neighboring power or tribe invaded his majesty's dominions and made an attack which was a gross and flagrant outrage it could only be met by fighting in their own country those who had despised the rights and sovereignty of our sovereign."

"The premier repudiated the assertion that Great Britain was weakening on the subject of peace terms. He declared the country could not afford to submit to the suggestion that affairs should be allowed to slide back into a position where it would be in the power of the enemy when the opportunity suited him to renew the issues for which this country had fought during the last three years.

WOMEN HOLD UP TROLLEY LINE; MANY MINERS DECIDE TO STRIKE

SIX THOUSAND MEN GO OUT ON STRIKE

Mine Workers in the Central Field Decide to Quit Work.

ALL WERE EMPLOYED BY WEBSTER COMPANY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., May 7.—Six thousand mine workers employed in the 10 mines of the Webster Coal and Coke Companies in this county decided at a mass-meeting this morning to strike until the company signs the Altoona scale.

A meeting was held at Ehrenfield today, at which nearly all of the 600 men employed at that place were present. A communication was received from President W. A. Lathrop of the Webster company, in which he is said to have offered to collect 1 cent from the miners as a check-off for the check weighman, whereas the men ask 2 and 3 cents from day men and miners. No action was taken on the proposition.

The men ask that the company sign the mining scale adopted by the joint convention of miners and operators in Altoona, in March, which all other operators in this vicinity have signed.

ALLIANCE, O., May 7.—(Special.)—The miners employed at the Phillips coal mine at Bergholz went out today pending an adjustment of the wage scale. This mine was opened a few months ago by the Eastern Ohio Coal Company, with headquarters at Cleveland. Only one mine is affected by the strike, and it is believed the difference will soon be adjusted. The Phillips mine is located on the southern extension of the Lake Erie, Alliance & Wheeling railroad.

Girl Testifies That Revolver Was Used to Compel Ceremony.

CUMBERLAND, MD., May 7.—(Special.)—Oliver Weston Hamilton, a farmer 29 years old, is being tried here on a charge made by Phoebe Wigfield, aged 19. She was on the stand all day and created quite a sensation in telling the story of her alleged wrongs.

She said Hamilton had often threatened to kill her because she refused to marry him. She testified that one day while she was alone at the home of her sister, Hamilton suddenly appeared with a drawn revolver and demanded that she go with him. She said he assaulted her and that she was compelled to accompany him eight miles, where a minister was in waiting. Fearing, if she made an outcry, he would kill her, she went through a marriage ceremony.

JUDGE TESTIFIED HE RECEIVED GIFTS

Said He Returned Presents Sent by License Applicants.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEARFIELD, PA., May 7.—The surprising spectacle of the president judge of a judicial district admitting on the witness stand that he had received turkeys from and had been offered silverware and money from an applicant for license to sell liquor was the chief feature in the Clearfield quarter sessions today.

The case on trial is that of the Commonwealth vs. Charles Baugert, editor of the Falls Creek Herald, charged with libeling B. K. Fisher, former proprietor of a DuBois hotel. The series of articles and cartoons complained of represented Fisher trading turkeys and silverware for his license certificate.

The defense summoned Judge Siras Gordon to the witness stand. In answer to the several questions he admitted that he had received dressed turkey from Fisher just before one of the license courts at which Fisher was an applicant and received license. Previous to another license court he received a couple of pieces of valuable silverware, but when he saw Fisher's name engraved thereon he returned them through Fisher's attorney.

ATTORNEY THREATENS TO SHOOT WORKMEN

ALTOONA, PA., May 7.—Irate citizens effectually stopped the planting of poles for the extension of the local trolley lines along an aristocratic residence street today. J. L. Metzger stood in one of the holes and drove the workmen away with a heavy cane.

Nicholas P. Mervine, one of the most prominent attorneys in the city, said he would shoot the men if they did not leave the front of his house. His wife said she would place a rocking-chair over the hole and sit on it if the men continued, and a next-door neighbor, Mrs. George Rudisill, wife of a leading jeweler, threatened to turn the hose on the diggers.

Mayor Hoyer will be called on to settle the trouble.

ABDUCTED HER OWN CHILD.

Allegheny Woman, Whose Daughter Was in Another Family, Regained It.

On the charge of abducting her own child Mrs. Jeannette Ely was arrested and arraigned last night before Alderman Abernathy, Allegheny. The complainant was Mrs. Delia Peterbaugh of Thirty-ninth street, Pittsburgh. Mrs. Peterbaugh testified that Mrs. Ely's 3-year-old daughter Emma had been taken by the Humane society of Wilkinsburg and placed in her care when the child was about a year old.

Mrs. Peterbaugh said she moved to Pittsburgh and Mrs. Ely followed her, making repeated efforts to regain her child. Last December the mother visited the house while Mrs. Peterbaugh was away and abducted the girl.

No trace of the mother or child was found until this week, when Mrs. Ely and her daughter were located on Beaver avenue, Allegheny. At the hearing the mother made a tearful appeal to keep the child. The alderman reserved his decision until he could consult the Pittsburgh and Wilkinsburg humane authorities.

Sample Pianos in High Favor Bargains Going Fast at Hamilton's

We doubt if there ever was another piano sale that was characterized by the peculiarly interesting features which make this sale so important.

We very much doubt if there will be another piano sale like this one in many months.

Please remember the fact that ALL these are sample pianos.

Now, it doesn't require much reasoning to explain why customers are buying at so lively a rate. Quality talks. Prices talk. And that's the magnet in a nutshell in this case.

Quality in a piano is of first consideration. Price is, of course, always a factor.

Every person who comes here must admit that these sample pianos are undoubtedly great bargains.

That fact is so obvious as to admit of no question.

Not one piano in the entire collection has been out of this store since the day it was received from the manufacturer.

Nor has any one been subjected to hard usage.

But all have been here long enough to be thoroughly tried, therefore there is no detail but has our praise.

New England Pianos, regular prices $325 to $400, reduced for this special sample sale. $190 to $240.

Winthrop Pianos, regular prices $275 to $300, reduced for this special sample sale, $165 to $190.

Rica & Son Pianos, regular prices $300 to $325, reduced for this special sample sale, $175 to $200.

Wegman Pianos, regular prices $450 to $520, reduced for this special sample sale, $295 to $360.

Biddle Pianos, regular prices $250 to $275, reduced for this special sample sale, $135 to $170.

We wish you would carefully consider what is said of these pianos.

They are not unknown makes, but are such as afford the purchasers positive pleasure.

They are pianos for homes.

There are some in special fancy cases, which we call particular attention to for the reason that a great many persons prefer fancy cases to those ordinarily seen.

Terms are made to suit the convenience of purchasers.

Monthly payments can be arranged if desired.

LARKIN HOLDS UP APRIL ESTIMATE ON RESERVOIR

Condemned Work, Said to Be Uncorrected Is to Be Inquired Into.

THE INVESTIGATORS MEET

Former Engineer Findley Gives Testimony Opening Up an Old Dispute and Forging of Another Link in Highland Reservoir Trouble.

Controller John B. Larkin yesterday held up for investigation the estimate of the contractors on the new Highland reservoir for work done during April. It amounts to $11,140 12. The estimate, certified by Director J. Guy McCandless of the department of public works, was filed late yesterday afternoon by Engineer John G. Trimble, who is in charge of the work on the reservoir. It is alleged that a portion of the work done on the reservoir which was condemned has not yet been removed and corrected, and it is this feature Controller Larkin wants investigated. The matter forms another link in the long chain of trouble that the Highland reservoir contract has given to the city.

The estimate filed yesterday is the thirty-ninth, and the work already done on the reservoir amounts to $198,045 42.

When informed of the action of the controller, Director McCandless said: "I have not ordered any change in the plans or specifications. If any changes were made they were made before I became director of this department. I understand that good work is being done now and that the contractors are getting along very well."

Engineer Trimble said: "The only changes made in the specifications were those made before I took charge of the work and they are only slight. They are shown by the copy of the specification which I have filed with the water committee. I have been having the work done according to the specifications as they now exist, and with whatever changes that were made before I took charge of the work I have nothing to do."

The changes authorized in the plans and specifications are embodied in a letter from the department of public works to Congressman W. H. Graham, president of the Mercantile Trust Company, dated May 13, 1901, and signed by Edward M. Bigelow, who was at that time director of the department. Reference is made in the letter to the fact that George W. Wilson, Mr. Bigelow's predecessor in the office, had authorized certain changes which Mr. Bigelow went on to state, were approved and concurred in by him. Continuing, Mr. Bigelow wrote as follows:

"We will permit the use of washed river gravel in the place of Ligonier broken stone in the making of the concrete required for the putting in of the toe wall only."

"We will permit the substitution of Ligonier block stone for sandstone for paving the slopes, provided that the dimensions of the blocks conform with the specifications."

The letter further stated that the city would not permit a diminishing of the amount of broken stone to be placed back of the stone facing. The amount required in the specifications is 14 inches of this broken stone, and the contractors desired it reduced to six inches.

Water Investigators Meet Again.

The councilmanic committee investigating the recent water famine met again yesterday afternoon and Engineer Trimble and Charles Findley, the engineer formerly in charge of the work on the new Highland reservoir, were among the witnesses examined. Findley made some damaging charges against the contracting firm of Keeling & Ridge, which has done some of the work, and an effort will be made to have a representative of the firm present at the next meeting of the committee tomorrow afternoon to refute these charges and also to explain the contract existing between the firm and the Mercantile Trust Company, which became involved in the dispute over the reservoir by reason of being surety for Jonathan Clark & Sons, the original contractors.

Findley stated how he had discovered that the broken stone work back of the cement on the slope of the reservoir was not being placed according to specifications and told of the refusal of the contractors to comply with the specifications in the matter. He explained that the stone used was broken too small and was mixed with mud. It was intended, he stated, to allow water which would seep through the cement surface to fall to the level of the water in the reservoir and prevent freezing in cold weather; the freezing would throw the walls of the reservoir out of alignment. Findley stated that it was only by constant supervision on his part that he had been able to make Keeling & Ridge do the work properly. He said he could cite a dozen different times when the contractors had tried to violate the specification.

Findley said that portion of the work to which he had made reference was condemned and that the present contractors were supposed to have removed it, but that up to last week they had not done so. He declared that the reservoir could not be completed inside of the contract price, $420,000.

Engineer Trimble was asked when the reservoir would be ready to hold water and thought that this would be accomplished about January 1. When asked whether he really thought the reservoir would hold water when it was finished he looked doubtful, studied a moment and then ventured the belief that it would.

Firemen Tell of the Water Supply.

Chief Miles Humphries and Assistant Chief M. Hannigan told of the supply of water at fires. They said the pressure of water did not bother them as much as the lack of volume. They were asked about several fires that have occurred when it was reported that the supply was insufficient. They said that at certain points where the mains were small there was trouble. They said there were not plugs enough in the downtown district, though there are more now than there were a year ago.

Chief Humphries said that with the 14 engines in the downtown district which would answer a four-alarm call the pumping capacity would be 11,000 gallons a minute. Both chiefs agreed that at times there were shortages of water and that the city would be better off if larger mains—not less than eight-inch—were placed in the downtown section. Hennigan stated that a piece of six-inch pipe taken from the Second avenue main had only a three-inch opening, due to corrosion. Neither knew what had become of the $80,000 appropriated for a fire boat. They said a boat would be useful if pipe lines could be laid into the town from the rivers.

Joseph Keeling of the firm of Keeling & Ridge, when seen last night, said: "I am at a loss to understand by what right the controller holds up an estimate and I intend to see him about it tomorrow. I thought everything was going along very well and cannot understand how the controller can hold up the estimate."

STRICT CIVIL SERVICE TO RULE ON THE B. & O.

LENGTH OF SERVICE WILL AID PROMOTION

General Superintendent Haas Makes Significant Statement of Management's Plans.

"There will be no better recommendation for an employe on this road than that he has spent years in the service," said L. G. Haas, the new general superintendent of the Baltimore & Ohio at Pittsburgh, yesterday, in discussing plans for this district. "It is earnestly desired that there be developed a still greater feeling of loyalty to the road, and the officials will make every effort to encourage this. A civil service system by which all positions will be filled by promotion will be instituted, and all who are eager for advancement can be assured that no road will be more ready than the Baltimore & Ohio to take care of its own men. Outside of the fact that this is the just due of the employes it is the wisest policy."

This statement from the man in charge of the 1,600 miles of road should have much effect in quieting the feeling of uncertainty which has become marked among Baltimore & Ohio men since the many changes of the past year began. The object of the management now is to cultivate a loyalty in the service that will work for the good of all concerned.

Gen. Hood May Go With the Goulds.

It is reported that Gen. John M. Hood, who recently resigned the presidency of the Western Maryland to become president of the street railway company of Baltimore, will return as president of the combined Western Maryland and West Virginia Central railroads. Gen. Hood has been one of the most active of the Baltimore business men in securing for the Gould or Fuller syndicate control of the Baltimore line. He stands very close to the new ownership and his ability as a railroad executive is well known.

The financing of the Fuller-Gould syndicate will be in charge of the Continental Trust Company of Baltimore, in which Col. Myron T. Herrick is a director; the Mercantile, Bowling Green and North American Trust Companies of New York, and the Guardian Trust Company of Cleveland. "We are prepared to spend as an initial outlay $20,000,000," said a member of the syndicate, "and as much more as may be required for later work.

F. D. UNDERWOOD,
President of the Erie Railroad.

The line will be put into fit shape to handle the heaviest freight trains through to the coast."

Way Rate Reductions Were Made.

An explanation of the notable increase in reductions of freight rates since the injunctions against discrimination went into effect, has been found and it has caused another meeting of the presidents of the enjoined lines to devise means of abating the reductions. Since the court has made it dangerous to make a cut in rates secretly, those lines which were compelled to go below the rates of their competitors to secure business have followed the practice in a new way. If a lower rate than tariff was to be made to secure business, notice of the reduction which requires only three days of filing to be effective, was not sent to the interstate commerce commission until the legal time had all but elapsed. The result was the low rate was made legal and the contracts closed before the other lines could go after the business. There have been 600 reductions in rates since the injunctions were issued and this is believed to have been the cause in most cases. As it is always easier to reduce than to raise rates, the presidents of the lines are now trying to bring the rates back to the tariffs in effect before this new method of reduction began to be used.

NEW EAST END LINE IS TO BE BUILT SOON

Official Confirmation of Pennsylvania's Plan to Connect East Liberty With Allegheny Valley.

Charles E. Pugh, second vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, has officially confirmed the report that the purpose of the Pennsylvania railroad in its East End real estate purchases is to construct a new line from East Liberty to connect with the Allegheny Valley. Mr. Pugh said, in discussing the matter at Philadelphia: "The line will likely be constructed in the very near future. It is comparatively short, and its construction will cost only about $300,000. The most expensive feature in connection with it is the damages, as a portion of the line will run through a closely built-up section."

Mr. Pugh admitted the company's inability to handle promptly all freight offered in Pittsburgh during the past year. He said the road was largely handicapped by the improvement work in progress and now nearing completion.

Reading Has New Soft Coal Scheme.

Since Supt. Garratt of the Reading railway took charge of the operation of that road, a new system or handling the bituminous coal trade from this section for tidewater points in connection with the Baltimore & Ohio and the Western Maryland, has been inaugurated. At Shippensburg, the junction of the Reading and the Western Maryland, trains of 100,000-pound capacity steel cars, with as many cars to the train as the locomotive can haul, are made up and hurried without break through to Port Richmond or Port Chester, the tidewater terminals of the Reading. The smaller cars and those for destinations along the line are made into other trains, so that greater expedition in handling the through business may be secured.

RAILROAD NOTES.

J. N. Tittimore, traffic manager of the Iowa Central, was in Fitteburgh yesterday visiting friends.

The New York Central has prepared plans for improvements to be made this year at a cost of $5,000,000.

The Baltimore & Ohio advertises in The Gazette this morning for more machinists. The company needs more men at all its shops.

Vice President B. L. Winchell of the 'Frisco system denies the report that he will leave that road to become president of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company of Kansas City.

HAYES FACTION VICTORIOUS IN K. OF L. LAW SUIT

Court Says John N. Parsons Is No Longer a Member of the Order.

DECISION IS SWEEPING

Defendants Are Restrained from Circulating Their Paper, from Using Ritual of Order, and from Representing Themselves as Members.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
933 Fifteenth St., N. W.
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7.

Justice Bradley of the supreme court of the District of Columbia this afternoon announced his decision in the Knights of Labor case, which has been pending for more than a year, and the hearing of which consumed several weeks. The proceedings were for injunction, discovery and an accounting, and were instituted by the order of the Knights of Labor against John N. Parsons, Emery Burley, James J. Donnelly, John A. Conner, A. J. O'Keefe and W. E. Carr.

The court decides that the so-called trial of John W. Hayes, general secretary and treasurer of the order, by a board presided over by John N. Parsons, at the St. James hotel, was no trial; that the session held at Birmingham, Ala., November 18, 1900, presided over by I. D. Chamberlain was a session of the general assembly of the order and that the action of the Birmingham assembly in ratifying the "Hayes special session" in expelling John N. Parsons, John A. Connor and A. J. O'Keefe was legal and conclusive.

The court further decides to restrain Parsons and other defendants from circulating the official paper known as the Journal of the Order of the Knights of Labor; to restrain each of them from using the name of the ritual of the order and from representing themselves to be officers or members of the organization, and, further, to restrain the defendants from assuming to act as officers of the order of the Knights of Labor and from interfering with the order.

The court holds that the order of the Knights of Labor is duly incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia.

CARNETT PLEADS SELF-DEFENSE TO MURDER CHARGE

Shot Jealous Husband Who Had Threatened to Take His Life.

MANY WITNESSES HEARD

All Testify W. T. Riddle Had Served Notice of His Intentions—Two Say He Started to Draw Revolver When Killed.

Peter Carnett, colored, was on trial in the criminal court yesterday for the murder of William T. Riddle, also colored, on March 1, at the house of James Griffin, in Sharpsburg. Carnett was arrested in Columbus, O., whither he fled after the shooting.

The prosecution is conducted by District Attorney John C. Haymaker, while the defendant is represented by Attorneys William Price and William Stanton.

Dr. W. N. Humphries, who attended Riddle after he was shot, said he found three wounds, one in the forehead and two in the back. He sent Riddle to the hospital. Dr. W. C. McCandless testified to the post mortem examination.

James Griffin testified that he saw Carnett shoot Riddle and that he took Carnett's revolver from him after he had fired the shots. He said Riddle tried to get a revolver out of his coat pocket, but Carnett was too quick for him. He said that Riddle's wife was visiting his wife. Carnett was staying with them during the high water. Riddle came to his house to have a talk with his wife, and finding Carnett there commenced to quarrel with him and threaten him.

Riddle Had a Revolver.

The witness said Riddle had his right hand in his coat pocket, as if he was clasping a revolver, and after he was shot and Dr. W. N. Humphries was examining Riddle's wounds, Griffin found a 22-caliber revolver in Riddle's pocket.

Mrs. Griffin, who also witnessed the trouble, corroborated her husband's testimony.

Mrs. Victoria Riddle, wife of the murdered man, told a similar story of the shooting. She said that she and her husband had been separated for some time and that her husband had no reason to be jealous of Carnett.

Attorney Stanton, in opening the case for the defense, said that they expected to prove that Carnett had acted only in self-defense and that Riddle had often threatened to shoot him. Carnett was placed on the witness stand. He was very nervous and his eyes were bloodshot. He talked in a faltering voice that was hardly audible and had to be often told to speak louder. He said that when he fired the shots he feared that he was about to be shot, as Riddle had often personally threatened him, had called at his room and told him he was going to kill him.

Murdered Man Made Threats.

He said at the time of the shooting Riddle had his hand in his pocket and was about to pull his gun.

Mrs. William Richardson, with whom Carnett boarded, testified that Riddle had told her that he intended to shoot Carnett and that, fearing he would do so, she ordered him from the house and told him never to come again. Before Riddle left she said he told her to tell Carnett "never to leave the house without a revolver," for he intended to kill him.

Several other witnesses testified that Riddle had told them of his intentions toward Carnett and that they had better tell him to be prepared to meet him.

Shot Landlady While Drunk.

George Saxby was found guilty of unlawful shooting and wounding of Josephine E. Moore of No. 618 West Robinson street, Allegheny.

The prosecutrix testified that the defendant had been renting a room from her; that on the evening of March 5 they had trouble, arising from some trifling matters. She said the defendant had been drinking and left the house very angry. The next morning he entered her room and took up the quarrel, which ended in his shooting three times at her, one shot inflicting a flesh wound on her right shoulder. She said she did not think the defendant knew what he was doing, as he acted strangely.

The defendant testified that he had been drinking heavily the day before the trouble and had taken considerable morphine, which made him nervous and irritable. He said that he remembered nothing of his actions after 11 o'clock on the day before the shooting. Sentence was not imposed.

Bennie Klee pleaded guilty on a charge of misdemeanor preferred by George Fance. He was accused of buying lead pipe from boys, which was stolen from the Pennsylvania Smelting Company. He was not sentenced.

SPURIOUS COIN CASES.

United States Court Trying Persons Accused of Passing Counterfeit Money.

A sealed verdict was returned in the United States district court in the cases against Nirifa Sunseni and Annie Platz, Italian girls, charged with passing counterfeit money at Johnstown. Before court adjourned the grand jury was discharged.

Ralph Van Mauten and William Stevens of Meadville were tried on a charge of passing counterfeit money. It was testified that the defendants, who are farmers, paid for several articles with spurious coins. A mistake was made in the indictment, in which it was set forth that the offense was committed in November, 1902. The court said the wording of the indictment could be changed, whereupon the attorney for the prisoners said he would ask for the discharge of his clients.

"If you look at the matter in that light, we will continue with the case, as the indictments are drawn," answered Judge Buffington. The jury is out.

The grand jury returned a true bill for embezzlement against David M. Wolfe, a teller in the First National bank of Tyrone. It is alleged he embezzled $12,000 of the funds of the bank. Other true bills were: Thomas Robinson and William R. Connor, presenting false claims to the United States; L. J. Cook, embezzlement; Abram Cohen, violating the tobacco law; Harvey Keyser, counterfeiting.

The following persons pleaded guilty: Fred Phillips, depositing obscene letters in the postoffice; W. Morgan, counterfeiting; D. W. Robinson, counterfeiting; G. Woodside, making false pension affidavits.

Street Railroad Answers.

Answers were filed yesterday in the equity case of the Western Pennsylvania Railroad Company against the Creighton, New Kensington & Springdale Street Railway Company to restrain the defendants from using a portion of the Freeport road. The defendant alleges that permission was granted it by the county commissioners to occupy part of the road. The defendant says it does not intend to built that part of the railway westwardly from the New Kensington bridge.

Lost Job as an Actor.

The case of Edward Collins against Louis Wamser is on trial in common pleas court No. 1. Collins alleges that the defendant had him arrested without provocation for the larceny of a penknife. He claims he had an engagement with Olga Nethersole as an actor, but lost his job because of his arrest.

COMMITTEE FOR FOURTH OF JULY IS APPOINTED

Recorder Brown Names Eminent Citizens to Make Arrangements.

WILL INVITE PRESIDENT

Owing to the Earliness of Invitation, Hopes of "Teddy's" Acceptance Are Justified—Plans for Biggest Day in History Are Developing.

The idea of having a great Fourth of July celebration in Pittsburgh seems to be finding favor everywhere. On all sides, business men and citizens are indorsing the project and hoping it will go through with a hurrah. The suggestion to bring President Roosevelt here to make an address, likewise finds favor, and every effort will be made to persuade him to be present.

Recorder Brown has taken up the matter in earnest. He yesterday appointed a committee, consisting of George T. Oliver, A. J. Barr, former Judge J. H. Reed, H. C. Frick and William McConway, to attend to speakers and such arrangements.

One of their first duties will probably be to extend an invitation to the president to spend his Fourth of July here. By inviting the chief executive early it is hoped that he will be able to accept the invitation. His presence would attract thousands of people to the city who would otherwise remain at home.

Great Features Planned.

Everything in Pittsburgh shuts down on the Fourth of July and the great working class turns out in full force. It has been estimated in years past that at least 50,000 people swarmed through Schenley park to witness the display of fire works in the evening, and the plans for this year are to get such a display that it will take out every person in Pittsburgh.

The evening, when the greatest crowds gather, will be given over to a display of fire works as complete as can be secured. It is to exceed anything of the kind ever attempted here before.

Enthusiastic Over Idea.

Former Judge Reed, president of the Philadelphia Company and one of the committee appointed by Recorder Brown to make arrangements, is enthusiastically in favor of a great celebration. "You may say almost anything you please for me approving of the idea," said he. "I think it will be a great thing to have a rousing time here and outdo any former celebrations. It will be a fine scheme to get President Roosevelt here, if he can come, for his presence will add greatly to the day."

James D. Callery, president of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, is also in favor of a big celebration. He said:

"Personally I am in favor of the plan, and as an official of the Pittsburgh Railways Company I can say that we will do all in our power to further the movement. We want to see a splendid time arranged and carried out. The idea of bringing President Roosevelt to Pittsburgh is great, and it should be carried through if possible. We will put on every car possible and try to effect a system of transfers which will carry people to Schenley park from all quarters of the city as conveniently as possible."

McKees Rocks Waterworks—Some of the councilmen of McKees Rocks are agitating waterworks and making inspection trips to nearby towns, with that end in view, but as the borough is heavily in debt and no money can be raised until after the next triennial assessment, which is two years hence, it is not understood by the people how waterworks can be built.

Dog Catchers Defeated—For four years the Allegheny dog catchers have been after an unlicensed dog owned by Jacob Klagle of Warner street. The directors will look to his bondsmen for restitution.

He has returned to Latrobe.

Will Rest in Potter's Field—Franz Bauer, a German, aged 62, died of general debility at the Allegheny City Home yesterday afternoon. He was a resident of Allegheny for 35 years, and for several years previous to last September, when he was sent to the City Home, he boarded at No. 285 O'Hara street. He had no friends in this country and will be buried in the Potter's field at the City Home.

No Government Building—The people of Braddock have been living in hopes that they were soon to have a government building, but it is all off now. Yesterday the postal authorities authorized the renting for 10 years of the ground floor of a three-story building being built in Library street, opposite the present postoffice. There will be nearly three times the room of the present quarters.

Held for Husband's Murder—Mrs. Sarah Edinger was held for court yesterday by the coroner's jury for the murder of her husband, John Edinger, in Penn township, on Monday night. Mrs. Edinger, her husband, Alfred Edinger, and Mrs. Emma Bolton, Mrs. Edinger's sister, drank a gallon of hard cider and two quarts of whisky that afternoon and a shooting was the ending of their drunken row. An effort is being made to prove Mrs. Edinger insane.

The body was identified and claimed by the Rev. W. Henry Thompson of the Children's Home Society of Pennsylvania, and by him turned over to Fullerton for shipment. Residents of Avalon are taking up a collection to bury the child, but it will not be needed now.

Organization Postponed—The proposed organization of a new Christian church has been postponed for some days. It was announced that the new congregation would be organized last night, but the attendance was not so large as to warrant such proceedings. T. M. Latimer, leader of the proposition, stated last night that no organization would be formed before tomorrow night. There were about 30 persons present last night. Evangelist A. P. Cobb, who is conducting the evangelistic services, spoke last night on "Place of Prayer in a Revival."

The Victim Likely to Die—Oscar Dickroeder of No. 912 High street, Sharpsburg, is wanted on a serious charge, as Mrs. Jane Conley of No. 706 High street has made information against him before Justice of the Peace Robinson charging assault and battery, with intent to kill her son. The trouble between the young men occurred April 5. It is alleged that they went to a resort in O'Hara township kept by an Italian and drank considerable liquor. There was a fight, during which, it is alleged, that Conley was beaten by Dickroeder. Three of his ribs are said to be fractured, the end of one penetrating his lungs, and his stomach so injured by being kicked that his injuries will probably result in his death.

The steamer Enos Taylor, towing Eisenbart & Henderson's showboat, arrived in port yesterday afternoon from the Monongahela, having made a tour of the river.

Capt. Oliver Douds is very ill at his home in West Economy, and it is said that his friends are much concerned about his condition. Capt. Douds is one of the best-known boats runners on the river.

The friends of Jefferson McClure, who was the barber on the burned City of Pittsburgh, believe he was lost, as he has never been heard of, nor was his name ever mentioned in any way since the accident.

The towboat Gleaner, owned by C. Jutte & Co., is having repairs made to her rudders, and it is said that she will steer much better when they are completed. She is also having "fins" put on them.

Capt. Scott R. Dawson yesterday accepted a position with the Pressed Steel Car Company. He becomes one of the pilots of the towboat Steel Queen, a double crew having been put to work, Capt. Lon Craig in command. The boat carries 9,000 workmen every day from Allegheny to McKees Rocks.

BARGE WATER FAILED.

Jutte & Co. Gave Up the Idea of Shipping Barge Coal.

Capt. G. W. Thomas of C. Jutte & Co. yesterday afternoon gave up hope of seeing a light barge stage of water, and the firm will not make any coal shipments south for the present. A tow was ready to be sent with the Philip Pfeil, and the firm was quite anxious to get the boat out on account of having a large number of contracts to fill in the south. Late reports showed the river to be falling at all points.

The harbor is rapidly filling with loaded coal craft and by the latter part of the week there will be sufficient coal in the harbor, and pools of the Monongahela to start out all of the Ohio river towboats in port.

WAS DOING HIM.

The "Hold Up" Man, Coffee.

Few people know how many persons are made sick and kept sick by coffee drinking. A trained nurse relates her experience with a number of different persons. She says, "Quite a long time ago I discovered that coffee was the cause of the violent palpitations of my heart and frequent sick headaches, and attacks of indigestion, so I quit coffee and went on to hot water, not knowing then of Postum Food Coffee.

"Quite a while after I quit coffee my husband began to complain of coffee coming up in his mouth more or less during the forenoon, and it made it very disagreeable for him. One day I said 'Suppose we try that Postum Food Coffee which is advertised so much.' So we did and I prepared it according to directions. The beverage proved delicious and we liked it so much and it agreed with us so well we have used it for over two years now.

"My palpitation of the heart, headaches and indigestion have gone altogether. It is very easy to make by boiling 15 or 20 minutes with a small piece of butter put in the pot to prevent its boiling over.

"My cousin, who is a telegraph operator, had nervous dyspepsia, having to stay from work every few days. He gave up the use of coffee and commenced using Postum, and since that time he has not been troubled with dyspepsia.

"One woman told me she had suffered with indigestion for three years. She drank nothing but tea. I made Postum for her and showed her how to make it. She liked it and now uses it in her family regularly and is well and happy.

"I could name a dozen or more similar cases." M. N. Clark, 322 Ogden ave., Chicago, Ill.

What Mr. Schwab's Visit Means.

The visit of President Schwab and other officers of the United States Steel Corporation to Pittsburgh at this time is for purposes of more importance than ordinary inspection. Like the recent visit of President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad, it is for the purpose of deciding on betterments and extensions. It is the intention of the managers of the steel corporation to use the cash proceeds of the bond issue to greatly improve and increase furnaces for the production of iron and mills for the manufacture of the raw material into the finished product. There will be not less than $40,000,000 available for this purpose, and it is probable a considerable part of it will be spent in the Pittsburgh district. This will mean that more labor will be employed here, that there will be a vastly increased output of the mills and furnaces and that the railroad managers will have to step lively to place the transportation facilities level with the industrial development. We think that by this time they realize the necessities and will be equal to them.

Larkin and the Reservoir.

Controller Larkin is simply doing his duty in withholding payment on the monthly estimates for work done on the Highland reservoir. Allegations having been made that the work is not according to specifications he could not do other than he has, as guardian of the interests of the taxpayers, which he is in law and in fact. If the allegations were mere rumor he would be justified in taking notice of them, but they are more substantial than rumor. This does not mean that the contractors cannot make a clear showing of work well done. It may be all in accordance with the specifications. Granting that everything is as it should be the contractors and the public works department, which has approved the work, should have no difficulty in convincing the controller. If they cannot convince him and feel sure of their ground they have a remedy at law. Controller Larkin, during the brief time he has been in office, it may be said in this connection, has shown praiseworthy vigilance in the people's behalf. He is going on the principle that if anything is wrong the time to know it is now, and if allegations are unfounded this is the time to show that they are.

The Rochambeau Statue.

France has shown commendable and gratifying appreciation of the dignity of the part she is to take in the interesting exercises attending the unveiling of the Rochambeau statue in Washington on the 24th of this month. Both in the character of the men selected to represent the French nation and the splendid escort accorded them the French government evinces a true conception of the honor this nation seeks to pay one of her distinguished sons. It will be remembered that at the time of the celebration of the anniversary of the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown the French government failed to recognize fully the sincere tribute that this government sought to pay another of her heroic sons, the immortal Lafayette, and therefore, failed to give the celebration the sympathetic attention that our own sentiments on the subject seemed to call for. Gen. Boulanger was the French ambassador on that occasion, and while he afterward became conspicuous if not [illegible] the affairs of France, he was comparatively unknown.

Loubet has selected as the representatives at the Rochambeau [illegible] two of the most distinguished citizens of that republic, representing both the army and the navy. Gen. Brugere is a French soldier of international reputation, and one of the most conspicuous of the new order of military leaders in the French army, while Admiral Fournier is not less a representative of what is best in the French navy. These distinguished visitors will be given the splendid battleship Gaulois, the finest vessel in the French navy, as their transport, and in every way the mission will be given a dignity that was not conspicuous 20 years ago when Boulanger came to these shores.

America will be ready to duplicate the hospitality that was so recently extended to a distinguished representative of the German government when the French visitors land in this country. Added to our sense of duty as host there will be in the forthcoming entertainment a sentiment of grateful memory for the soldiers of France who gave such splendid aid to our struggling forefathers in their battle for independence.

Roosevelt Wanted on July 4.

Preparations for an appropriate Fourth of July celebration have been started by the appointment of a committee. It is hoped that the president of the United States can be induced to honor us with his presence and deliver the principal address of the day. The most important duty of the committee in connection with the Independence day program will be to persuade him to accept the invitation of the people of Pittsburgh to be their guest. It ought not to be a difficult task. Pittsburgh is now known throughout the world. It is the industrial center of the United States, as New York is the financial center. More than that it helps to make New York what it is. In this period of national prosperity of which our city is the best example all eyes are turned on Pittsburgh. It, therefore, forms an admirable background for the enunciation of a national policy, and anything the president may say here is certain to have an international audience. The presence of President Roosevelt in Pittsburgh on July 4 would be a noteworthy event and one worth striving for.

Exterminating Yellow Fever.

Americans not only feel an honest pride in the liberation of Cuba from Spanish misrule, but it gives them joy to know that the capital of the new republic has been rescued from the clutches of Yellow Jack. Maj. Gorgas of the United States army, chief sanitary officer of Havana, says in his report just printed: "Another month has passed without yellow fever, making six months since Havana has had a single case." A half year's freedom from the dread disease which was formerly so prevalent means that yellow fever has been vanquished, and that there need be no fear of its return if the Cuban authorities will use the means for its eradication that the Americans have used. In the last year of Spanish domination, 466 persons died from yellow fever in Havana. The destruction of a scourge of such virulence confers upon Cuba a benefit second only to its independence; and the benefit is not Cuba's merely, but America's also, for the presence of yellow fever in Havana was always a serious menace to our southern states.

The excellent results noted have come from a general cleansing of the city, with the adoption of modern sanitary precautions, and largely, if not chiefly, from a determination to exterminate the mosquitoes which carry the virus. The report of the chief sanitary officer discloses the fact that a year's work in killing mosquitoes has cost about $50,000, and has required the continual services of 100 men on the average. Mosquitoes carry malarial germs, as well as those of yellow fever, and the warfare on the insects has resulted in the saving of 250 lives per annum, which were formerly sacrificed to malarial fevers, besides reducing the number of cases of illness. The result shows that the money has been well spent. Spain would never have gone to this expense to rid Havana of yellow fever and to mitigate the ravages of malaria, but it is hoped that the Cubans will continue the good work since the United States has shown them how to do it.

The Part of Wisdom.

President Lambie has wisely relinquished his position in regard to standing committees to the extent of recognizing the joint committee on public works. His wisdom may grow to the point of abandoning his separate committees entirely and consenting to the orderly conduct of the city's affairs in accord with the undoubted will of the people. The action of the president of select council in creating separate standing committees was taken in the heat of controversy. It has neither precedent or parliamentary reason to support it, so it is more creditably abandoned than adhered to. Mr. Lambie will certainly gain in the public estimation by quietly abandoning a position that could have no other effect than to obstruct the transaction of necessary public business.

Revelations by Tillman.

Frequently when Senator Tillman talks he says something. He said something yesterday and as a result of what he said the Democratic senators made a procession out of the senate chamber while he was saying it. It isn't the first time that Tillman has told the truth about white domination of the negro in the south. Others endeavor to conceal the facts, but Tillman pitchforks them into public notice and flaunts them. His inconsistency appears in criticising acts alleged to have been committed in the Philippines while justifying acts in the south fully as bad that he asserts to be real occurrences and not works of the imagination. But the defenders of the American policy may smile at the inconsistency for the manner in which he cuts the ground from under the feet of the gentlemen on his own side of the chamber who have neither his honesty nor the courage of their convictions.

Mr. Tillman may be assured there will be no sneering away "responsibility for infamies committed by Americans in the Philippines." Responsibility will be fixed and any "infamies" will be punished. It is unfortunate that the southern infamies of which he boasts cannot be dealt with with similar impartiality. It is somewhat amusing to witness Tillman calling on Republicans to "turn from their game of deviltry in the Philippines" to "assist the south to rid itself of the threat of negro domination"—in other words to assist in a "game of deviltry" in the south. Republicans are not engaged in such a game in the Philippines and would be glad to make use of information furnished by Tillman to end it in the south. Such games have no right place under the stars and stripes.

After that we may rebuke the czar for his oppression of Finland. We should play no favorites when it comes to the righting of transoceanic wrongs.

Consolation for Pittsburgh.

From the Philadelphia Press.

Pittsburgh is paying $2,000 a month—or was until the controller got at it—on account of work on a filtration system on which no work is being done. Philadelphia is spending some millions on what people are beginning to suspect is not a filtration system at all, from which Pittsburgh must realize that it is in a pretty cheap class when it comes to municipal graft.

What Lincoln Said in 1863.

From the Indianapolis Journal.

The laws of war promulgated by Abraham Lincoln in 1863 by general order 100 say: "The more vigorously wars are pursued the better it is for humanity. Sharp wars are brief." The new theory is that the more vigorously hostile insurrections against the United States government are pursued and the milder efforts to put them down, the better it is for humanity.

Uncle Sam Comes to the Rescue of the Ladies

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, May 7.

Coincidently with the opening of the European sailing season comes the welcome information that customs inspectors' methods are to be toned down. While the rough treatment bestowed upon the belongings of passengers on the steamship piers of New York affects residents of every city and town in the country, it is here that most is heard about it. Passengers whose feelings have been outraged by a tussle with customs officials are disposed to free their minds on the spot, and the echoes of their rage ring up and down Manhattan island and linger there long after the aggrieved one has departed for Pittsburgh, Chicago, or whatever city may be his home. The annoyance to passengers on the steamship pier is an ever-present subject of discussion in New York city. With the setting in of a flood of departing Americans to the ships that cross the Atlantic there has been a misgiving that more than ever would be heard about the rudeness of inspectors. Happily, Uncle Sam has come to the rescue. While every care is to be taken to guard against smuggling as in the past, the large-handed gentry that have been in the habit of turning upside down my lady's dainty prettinesses and throwing her trunk wide open to the profane gaze of the world will be compelled to wear gloves hereafter when they are examining ladies' property. All this does not impress people starting away for a European visit. That can be said with assurance by anyone noting the gaiety and happiness in the faces of the thousands of passengers one sees at the piers of the big liners, as they go forth. When they return the tale is different—or has been. The new collector of the port has taken up the matter now, and he, backed by a paternal government, will try to make the home-coming of Americans and the visit to this port of strangers a matter for pleasant memory, rather than the nightmare it has been in the past.

A Merry Death Scene.

They are doing "A Lady of Quality" at the Murray Hill theater. Last night when the heroine had disposed of the gentleman who is deposited under the sofa for a large part of a lively scene, the curtain fell in due course. Unfortunately for the dead man under the sofa, the applause was so insistent that it was raised again—to show the corpse in the middle of the stage, just rising to its feet. William Bramwell, an actor very well known in Pittsburgh, was playing the part, and as he saw the curtain up he turned a sort of half-handspring and rolled under the sofa again, there to remain decorously dead. He was too late, however. The audience had seen the maneuver, and Mr. Bramwell got such a round of applause and laughter as would have done his heart good could he have persuaded himself that he had won it legitimately.

A Blow to Policemen.

Policemen and firemen cannot demand free rides on street cars, according to a decision handed down by the appellate division, third department, in Albany, today. The court decides that policemen and firemen are public officials, and come within the law which prohibits that class riding on passes or receiving free transportation because they are in the public service. It is not likely that this will affect New York policemen and firemen actually, although it may be supposed to do so. The average policeman rides where he wishes without paying fare in this city and it is not likely that the traction companies will stop the privilege because a court of appeals says it can. Still, the decision affects the whole state, and there may be many places outside of the metropolis where it is not considered quite so important to "stand in" with the police department as it is here.

Partridge Is Satisfied.

In spite of the occasional rumors that ex-Supt. Byrnes will succeed Cok Partridge as commissioner of police, the condition of the force seems to be fairly satisfactory. The commissioner is pleased with it, at least. He said today that he had taken a carriage ride with Deputy Commissioner Thurston through Harlem and the Bronx and had found everything quiet and orderly there. This is gratifying, of course, although some of the wise ones declare that there is a Harlem "tenderloin" where things are as "wide open" as they used to be in the old original Tenderloin in the very wildest period of Tammany control, a few years ago.

The Task a Hard One.

Officers of the commission appointed to raise $1,000,000 in Manhattan and the Bronx for the twentieth century thank offering of metropolitan Methodists are somewhat disheartened over their task. It is not nearly accomplished yet, in spite of the declaration by persons whose wish must have been father to the thought that the money had been nearly all subscribed, and that the last quarter of a million required had been raised at a meeting in Carnegie hall last night. While the commission will not give the exact status of the subscriptions, it says that there is a large proportion of the total amount yet to be raised. It believes the money will be obtained eventually, but that it cannot be done in a week or a month.

Order Coming Out of Chaos.

The stone work forming the outside walls of the big Macy edifice, which takes the whole block from Thirty-fourth to Thirty-fifth streets in Broadway, extending along way down each of the side thoroughfares, is being rapidly put in place. It looks as if the confusion in Herald square really will come to an end in a reasonable time, and that by this time next year people will be shopping where today is a havoc of dusty planks, derricks lifting gigantic slices of granite out of trucks to their places on the walls, piles of brick, immense huddles of steel pillars and girders, and a legion of loud-mouthed men working day and night. The two store buildings—Macy's above Thirty-fourth street, and Sachs immediately below, are beginning to look like modern structures, with their stone and marble fronts, their wilderness of rooms and their suggestion of fireproof solidity. For many months there was nothing but a hole in the ground at both sites, and the shock of dynamite blasts was incessant. The peaceful ironworker and stonemason hold possession now, and although they make plenty of noise as they go about their work, at least they do not use dynamite, and we are all grateful for that.

Incomes from Skyscrapers.

As a suggestion of the income that is derived from some of the big office buildings in New York it is interesting to know that the American Tract Society received in rent for apartments in its skyscraper at Spruce and Nassau streets last year the sum of $115,292 80. These figures are official. They were contained in the report read this afternoon at the 17th annual meeting of the society in Madison Square Presbyterian church. The report as a whole showed that the society is in a flourishing condition. It is understood in the business community that the Tract society building has never yielded the returns on the investment that were expected.

Burden Wants His Silver.

If the theory of the police as to the method by which I. Townsend Burden's residence in Madison square was robbed yesterday is correct it argues carelessness on the part of Mr. Burden's household. The police say that a man was putting coal into the cellar and left the basement door open. Some of the loungers in the square saw the open door and promptly took advantage of the situation. To slip into the basement, grab all the loose silver in sight and get out again would be an easy thing for a professional sneak thief. Mr. Burden is not satisfied with this explanation, however, and a reward is offered for the capture of the thief and the return of the property. Mr. Townsend Burden is one of the very rich men of New York and Newport and his family is very exclusive. He got into the papers a few years ago because he objected to a large lithograph of Margaret Mather being placed on a billboard in front of the old Brunswick hotel, immediately adjoining his residence. He threatened to tear it down with his own hands if it were not removed. There was squabbling over the picture for nearly a week and then it disappeared, more by the complaisance of Miss Mather's manager than through the force of law, it was understood at the time.

The Brooklyn Laid Up.

The cruiser Brooklyn went into the navy yard today for repairs. She will be entirely overhauled before again going into commission.

Most Was Acquitted.

There was a loud demonstration today when Hen Most was discharged by Magistrate Cornell and declared innocent of seditious speech and acts last Sunday night. William MacQueen delivered an address at a hall on the East Side on that occasion and Most listened to it. The police say that he cheered and indorsed MacQueen's sentiment: "Down with the government." Most says he did not. The magistrate believed Most and told him to go. As soon as he was outside the court room he was cheered by some 200 men and women wearing red bands in their hats and red neckties. They presented him with a nosegay remarkable for its size rather than the quality of the flowers, and followed him in a tumultuous mob to his newspaper office, in Gold street. MacQueen was held for trial in $1,000 bail. Most himself is out on bail, having a sentence of one year to serve in prison for misdemeanor in printing slanderous matter about President McKinley at the time of his death.

Excitement in Hoboken.

There was a strike among the "helpers" on the delivery wagons of the United Express Company at Hoboken this morning. While the public is not interested in the cause of the strike it found it impossible to overlook it, if they happened to be in Hoboken. The fact that the drivers refused to go to New York without their "helpers" caused a stagnation in the carrying business, and a great deal of merchandise that should have been brought over to this city today is still lying in Hoboken. The company says it will have everything straightened out by tomorrow. Probably it will, but in the meantime the ruction among the young men that lift and carry goods between wagons and warehouses gave Hoboken so much excitement that some absent-minded denizens were under the impression that there were two Sundays in this week.

Busy Days in Gotham.

These are great shopping days in New York. Merchants say they have never had a busier spring, while housewives confess that the display of goods is larger than usual and the prices as reasonable as they could ever expect. Sixth avenue, Fourteenth and Twenty-third streets and many parts of Broadway, where the drygoods stores are, were impassable at certain times this afternoon. The pleasant weather and the general activity in all lines of industry are responsible for the boom in business. Wholesale merchants say that their out-of-town trade is very large, indicating that the splendid business conditions are not confined to New York, but prevail in all cities and towns dependent upon the metropolis for wholesale buying.

Mrs. Fiske Is Popular.

Mrs. Fiske is drawing immense audiences to the Manhattan theater with "Tess of the D'Urbervilles." Tess is one of the best things Mrs. Fiske has ever done, and when she produced it first at the Fifth Avenue theater some five years ago, she created a furore about which playgoers here are talking yet. She has lost none of her charm in the character of Tess, and in the tragic passages is still terrible as she was when she first played the part. She has not Charles Coghlan for her Alec D'Urberville, but she has that sterling actor, De Belleville, in his place. Mrs. Fiske expects to do "Tess of the D'Urbervilles" for the rest of the season.

Borne to the Cathedral.

There was a large but quietly respectful crowd to witness the bearing of the remains of Archbishop Corrigan from the archiepiscopal residence to St. Patrick's cathedral. All traffic was stopped on Fifth avenue. Policemen kept everybody away from the steps of the cathedral except those privileged to be there while the casket was borne into the edifice, escorted by a long double line of priests in their black gowns and white vestments. Afterward, when the casket rested upon the catafalque in the main transept, it was placed in such a position that the face could be seen from every part of the great auditorium. The body will lie in state until Friday, when the funeral will take place. GEORGE C. JENKS.

Priest Laid to Rest.

Requiem high mass was celebrated yesterday morning in the St. Peter's Roman Catholic church at McKeesport over the remains of the Rev. Father A. A. VICTIM IS IMPROVED.

John Schultz, Who Was Dirked by Jealous Rival, May Get Well.

Physicians at St. Francis hospital are hopeful of the recovery of John Schultz, who was stabbed early yesterday morning at a Polish wedding at Thirty-fourth street and Mulberry alley. Stanislaus Bubroski, who is charged with the cutting, was committed to jail by Alderman Kerr to await the result of Schultz's injuries.

Schultz was dancing with a girl who had been brought by Bubroski, when the latter jumped upon him and plunged a dirk into him twice, once in the back and then in his body, just below the heart.

Schultz fell to the floor and Bubroski darted out of the house. After an exciting chase he was captured by Captain C. F. Ford at Penn avenue and Butler street, and taken to No. 5 police station. Schultz lives at No. 182 Thirty-first street, and is 30 years old.

CHINESE REBELS WELL ARMED.

Government Forces Considered Insufficient to Cope With Revolt.

PEKIN, May 7.—Bishop Favier, the French vicar apostolic in China, has received information that 10,000 armed rebels, with several cannon, are participating in the revolt at Cheng-Ting-Fu, Chi-Li province. It is considered doubtful if Yuan-Shi-Kai, the governor of Chi-Li, has sent a sufficient force to cope with the rebellion.

The leader of the uprising is a military mandarin, who killed his family before raising the flag of revolt, so as to prevent their punishment in the event of his failure.

PERSONALS.

Custodir V. Oliveira, Antonio A. Morcira, Jr., Custodir Dias and Pono B. Gomes of Para, Brazil, are tourists, registered at the Griswold. Two members of the party are accompanied by their wives. The party has been in the United States about three months, and stopped in Pittsburgh en route from Chicago to New York to inspect various points of universal interest. The male members of the party compose the firm of J. V. d'Oliveira & Co., a leading furniture company of northern Brazil. Custodir V. Oliveira, in speaking of business in Brazil generally last night, said: "We are just coming through a severe commercial crisis that has proven very disastrous for many business firms in the large cities as well as in the small towns. Our firm was the first to introduce sewing machines, of American make, in northern Brazil many years ago. At the present time we control the sewing machine trade in our country, and during an average year sell between 1,200 and 1,500 machines. We have placed as high as 3,000 machines in more prosperous years. The sewing machines sell in Brazil for $35 to $75."

August Eddy of Chicago, father of Spencer Eddy, first secretary of the United States legation at Constantinople, was a passenger over the Pennsylvania returning from a business trip to New York last night. "The proposed strike of the anthracite coal men is agitating the metropolis greatly," he said. "It has had a bad effect on the stock market and business generally has felt the effect. I understand that Mark Hanna is expected in Philadelphia today, and it is just possible a compromise will be effected."

The Rev. Dr. John M. Mealy, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Waynesburg, was a guest at the Hotel Anderson last night.

NEXT WEEK'S PLAYS.

Important Attractions Will Mark the Early Close of the Theatrical Season in Local Theaters Next Week.

The modern drama will be presented at the Alvin next week, when Mrs. Patrick Campbell and her London company appear for the first time in Pittsburgh. Mrs. Campbell is known as the greatest English-speaking actress in the world today. The reputation she first achieved in London has since been indorsed by New York, Chicago and Boston. It is many years since a foreign star on his or her first visit to this country has met with such a cordial reception as has been accorded Mrs. Campbell on this, her first American tour. "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" has been chosen for the opening bill and will be repeated on Friday night and at the Wednesday matinee. "The Notorious Mrs. Ebbsmith" will be given on Tuesday and Thursday nights. "Magda," Sudermann's powerful play, will be the bill on Wednesday and Saturday nights, while at the Saturday matinee Mrs. Campbell will be seen as Clara Saug in Bjornson's intense drama, "Beyond Human Power."

"Leah the Forsaken" is well known to most lovers of the drama. It was written by Augustin Daly some years ago. It was Fanny Davenport's superb portrayal of the title role that assisted very materially in making the lamented actress a star. When the stock company presented "Leah" at the Grand last season Miss Truax scored the greatest success of the season. Manager Davis has arranged for a big scenic revival of the play, beginning next Monday.

The Bijou will offer a melodrama new to Pittsburgh next week in Hal Reid's latest play, "A Homespun Heart." As sweet as a spray of apple blossoms is this gem of pastoral comedy drama, all the scenes being those familiar to every spectator. There is no straining for awkward, unreal situations. The action is rapid, brisk and bright. The climaxes are all real and not forced.

A season of light opera will open at the Empire theater next Monday night. Manager E. J. McCullough, after much correspondence, having finally secured the famous Murray-Lane opera company for a brief engagement. The operas to be presented include "Cavalleria Rusticana," "The Pirates of Penzance," "Faust," "Martha," "Trovatore," "The Bohemian Girl" and others.

A decided novelty is announced as the feature of next week's vaudeville at the Duquesne theater. In the Ten-Ichi troupe of royal illusionists Pittsburghers are offered their first sight of the most distinguished troupe of Japanese magicians and workers of mysteries ever brought to this country. Sawtelle and Duffey, the Elmore sisters and other equally fine vaudeville entertainers surround the Japanese company.

Louis Roble's Big Knickerbocker Burlesquers, which come to the Academy next week, have the reputation of being the best show of the kind on the road.

At the Duquesne garden next week the celebrated New York Music Hall Company, headed by Weber and Fields, will present the latest fun mixture concocted by these farceurs. The company includes an all-star cast. De Wolf Hopper, Lillian Russell, Fay Templeton, Sam Bernard, Fritz Williams and a company of 50 will present "Hoity-Toity" and the latest Weber and Fields burlesques. The engagement is for the entire week.

THE CIRCUS COMING.

The Forepaugh-Sells Aggregation Is Due to Arrive in Town Tomorrow.

The small boys' hopes are to be realized at last, while thousands of the grown-up small boys and girls will join in the welcome that will be accorded the big Forepaugh-Sells circus when it comes to town tomorrow. Preceding the performance tomorrow there will be a mammoth and spectacularly beautiful street parade, the route of which will be as follows:

Starting from the grounds at Exposition park at 9 a. m., to Allegheny avenue, to Western avenue, to Ohio street, to Federal street, to Robinson street, to Seventh street bridge, to Liberty street, to Grant street, to Water street, to Smithfield street, to Fifth avenue, to Market street, to Sixth street, to Sixth street bridge, to Federal street, to Robinson street, to show grounds.

Among the features of the big show this year that will attract unusual attention and which serve to put the Forepaugh-Sells circus in the lead in America are Olavolo's dangerous, daring, death-defying deed of looping the loop on a bicycle, the sensation of the year; the Aurora Zouaves, the official interstate drill champions of the United States, who have just returned from a triumphal conquest of all continental Europe, where they were pronounced by nobility and royalty to be the best drilled soldiers in the world; Minting, the marvel, the only man on earth who can and does ride a unicycle, or single wheel bicycle, up and down a narrow spiral tower; the Ten Peerless Potters in the greatest aerial act on earth; the Jackson family cycling septet, introducing the famous cycle whirl; Starr, the scoring star, who dashes down a ladder on an ordinary bicycle; Dallie Julian, the young lady who is the only living somersault rider on a bareback horse; Emma Stickney, the handsome daughter of Robert Stickney, under whose watchful eye she has now become the queen of all equestriennes; the Four La Montes, the Five St. Leons and the Five De Lucos, the three troupes of all Europe's greatest acrobats.

Awnings Must Be Correct.

Superintendent of Police John McAleese is going to have the ordinance governing awnings enforced. Awnings must not extend more than four feet from a building unless they go to the curb, and the lowest part must not be less than seven feet from the ground. The penalty is $10 a week for each week of maintenance after notification.

A NEW THEATER IS TO BE BUILT IN SIXTH STREET

Henry W. Savage and Jacob Litt Have Almost Completed Deal for Site.

CORNER DUQUESNE WAY

Henry Phipps Secured Ground — An Office Building and Theater Entrance to Front Sixth Street, With Playhouse Itself Back of That.

The prospect of a new theater in this city was greatly brightened yesterday when it became known to a few that the property 100x240 feet at the southeast corner of Duquesne way and Sixth street had been purchased for that purpose. It is said that Henry Phipps purchased it for Henry W. Savage and Jacob Litt, the New York theatrical managers, who have perfected a combination and who propose to enter the field against the theatrical syndicate controlled by Klaw & Erlanger and Al. Hayman, with the Frohmans as assistants.

The property purchased is 240 feet deep, with a frontage in Sixth avenue of 100 feet. The plan is to erect an office building, in Sixth street, with a 20-foot entrance to the theater, which will be 80 feet deep. The Sixth street entrance will be provided by way of a 20-foot alley and side and rear entrances will be easily arranged from Barkers alley and Duquesne way so as to comply with the state law.

It is well known that Henry W. Savage and Jacob Litt have been for some time endeavoring to secure a site in this city for a new theater. They are undoubtedly opposed to the Klaw & Erlanger syndicate, which controls the Alvin theater, and their efforts to obtain a theater in this city are good evidence that there is a division of some kind in the ranks of those who have for some years controlled the first-class attractions in this city.

The erection of a new theater to play first-class attractions would indicate a rivalry between the now so-called syndicate and the H. W. Savage and Jacob Litt combinations, which would be of great benefit to the theatergoing public, as the syndicate has heretofore ruled with an iron hand.

H. B. Naylor, the real estate agent of Henry Phipps, stated yesterday that the deal for the property had not yet been completed, but he admitted that the property had been bought with the understanding that it was to be leased for a theater, which would be erected in the near future. He also said that the deal was well advanced, but that no articles of agreement have as yet been signed. There is but little doubt, however, that the deal will be completed within a few days.

WAS HERBERT NIGHT.

Good Audience Listened to Composer's Music Rendered by His Own Orchestra.

Last night was Herbert night at Duquesne garden, and a good-sized audience assembled to hear the melodious offerings from Herbert's different suites and operas. The first part of the program, following precedent of previous concerts, was miscellaneous in character, opening with a Herbert march. Only the middle portion was devoted exclusively to his compositions.

Tonight will be the second symphony night and a program of high artistic merit has been prepared. Nothing in the two weeks has proved more enjoyable than the several solos played by Mr. von Kunits, and the fact that there is one tonight will doubtless swell the audience largely with those who appreciate the artistic capabilities of the concert master.

The program is as follows:

March, Hongroise ..... Berlioz
Overture, "Le Part du Diable" ..... Auber
Violin solo, Rondo Capriccioso ..... Saint-Saens
Mr Luigi von Kunits.
Selection from "The Viceroy" ..... Herbert
INTERMISSION.
Larghetto, from 1st Minor Symphony ..... Beethoven
Vivace non troppo, from "Scotch" Symphony ..... Mendelssohn
(a) Bridal Song, from "Rustic Wedding" Symphony ..... Goldmark
(b) Serenade from "Rustic Wedding" Symphony ..... Goldmark
Pastorale, from Suite in G ..... Tschaikowsky

MR. AND MRS. PARK PAINTER gave a dance last night at the Pittsburgh Golf club house in honor of Miss Augusta Letchford of Morristown, N. J., who has been visiting at the Park Painter home in Ridge avenue, Allegheny, since last Sunday. Miss Letchford and Miss Eleanor Painter were schoolmates at Pelham Manor.

The dance was one of the few spring dances this season and the first large affair at the club house. The guests included 75 of the younger people, who were received in the great hall of the club house by Mrs. Painter, Miss Painter, Miss Eleanor Painter and Miss Letchford. Later in the evening the dance was given in this hall. The decorations were simple but effective. The immense fireplace was filled with boughs covered with early blossoms. The supper tables in the dining room were simply adorned with spring flowers.

Before supper, which was served about 11 o'clock, there were the usual round dances. Two figures of the cotillion were danced after supper. The first was led by Frank Guthrie, with the guest of honor, Miss Letchford. The favors for this figure were bouquets of flowers for the girls and boutonnieres for the men. Miss Eleanor Painter led the second figure, a pretty, graceful one, for which the favors were ping-pong racquets for the girls and Indian clubs for the men. The favors were distributed by Mrs. Painter and a few of her friends who assisted her.

The Pittsburgh Golf club house, surrounded by its broad piazzas and opening out on the rolling stretches of lawn covered with golf links, is an ideal place for giving a summer dance.

Rumors From Summer Playgrounds.

The committee on supplies for the summer playgrounds has a large contract on its hands. So extensive are its operations, increased immensely by the distribution of the industrial work to the different playgrounds instead of centralizing it in the vacation school, as heretofore, that one of the great warehouses in the city is being used as a kind of clearing house. A mountain of sand, nearly 100 tons, is being secured for the use of the thousands of children who enjoy the playgrounds. One large wholesale firm has donated 2,000 tin buckets for the use of the children, while as many small shovels shows to some extent the proportions to which the work of the joint committee of women's clubs conducting the summer playgrounds has grown. Large donations of toys and playthings have been received with which to amuse the little children. One thousand thimbles, numberless needles, spools of thread by the gross and yards of material to sew are required in the sewing department alone, and donations of these materials will be thankfully received.

Arranging Committees.

A meeting of the ladies interested in the street fair which will be held in Thomas boulevard on June 12, under the auspices of the women of the Point Breeze Presbyterian church, was held yesterday afternoon, to arrange committees. The houses in the boulevard will be utilized for different forms of entertainment. There will be a country store, a new feature this year, an art gallery, candy kitchen, fortune telling booths, lemonade stands, fan and cushion exhibitions and supper rooms. A hurdy-gurdy and street piano, with a "Punch and Judy" show will provide amusements for the little people. An orchestra and soloists will entertain in the evening and other novel forms of amusement will be provided by the indefatigable managers. An automobile parade will be one of the features of the program, and short rides in the automobiles will be given for a silver offering.

Bellevue Current Events Club.

The Bellevue Current Events club met yesterday at the residence of Miss Barclay in Washington avenue, Bellevue. The club discussed "England Under the Commonwealth." Mrs. George Smith had a good paper on "Cavaliers and Roundheads." Mrs. Stevenson read a character sketch of Cromwell, and a general summary of the topic was given by Miss Barclay. A discussion of current events followed, led by Mrs. Boyle, after which an impromptu musical program was given, Miss Bertha Howard sang "Obstination," by Fountenailles, and "Mignon," with Mrs. Harvey as accompanist.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL

Has noticed the most striking departures in candy boxes lately. In reality they are not boxes at all, but baskets made in the shape of cunning little automobiles and victorias. Now some enterprising manufacturer has issued a set of canoes and jaunting cars, all in fine woven straw, and these filled to the brim with bonbons cannot fail to bring joy to the fair recipient.

The Lilacs Are in Bloom—in some of the East End avenues now, filling the air with fragrance and their habitation spots with delicate color. Apropos of the season of the real blossoms come the artificial lilacs which nod from at least every other hat which we meet in a day's journey. The truly spring girl who has lilacs in her hat and a bunch nodding from her corsage is the center of attraction.

For the Tots—
Quaint little French waisted frocks are shown in many of the smart shops; they are made of gingham or lawn in delicate colors and with the necks cut round or square to show the dimpled necks. The short sleeves are not puffed as in former years, but are bell shaped and fall only to the elbow.

In Burnt Wood—
The frames shown at some places are exceedingly handsome, and some are more than handsome, they are artistic to a high degree. One of these purchased on sight by an appreciative shopper yesterday showed a wandering pattern of lotus blossoms, standing in delicately sharp relief against the darkened ground. Into the frame went the picture of a full lipped dark-eyed woman who suits the design so truly that added value is given the picture as a bit of artistic fitness.

For Warm Weather—
The daintiest of pompadour night robes are shown. Cut square in the neck and puffed in the sleeves, they are slipped on over the head and gathered in to fit by means of a ribbon strand run through the embroidery neck finish. They are the very perfection of cool comfort, especially when made of fine linen or batiste.

Striped Suede—
Is a new material for evening shoes and slippers and is very dainty and smart looking. The stripes seem to be silk and when run across a slender toed shoe give a peculiarly high bred delicate arch to the foot.

For Younger Girls—
Scarlet poppies make a pretty hat trimming, with nothing else to detract from their beauty. A loose woven brown straw, with the poppies wreathing carelessly around it, set a little to one side on a head of brown curls, gives a most attractive picture.

SCHURMAN DECLINES.

Says President Roosevelt May Be Trusted to Attend to Philippine Investigation.

ITHICA, N. Y., May 7.—It was learned here today that President Schurman of Cornell university has written Carl Schurz declining membership on the committee appointed to investigate the alleged Philippine atrocities. He did not attend the meeting in New York at which the committee, consisting of Carl Schurz, Charles Francis Adams, Andrew Carnegie, Wayne MacVeagh, Edwin Burritt Smith and Herbert Welsh, was appointed. President Schurman feels that the conduct of the investigation and the vindication of the honor of the army may safely be left in the hands of President Roosevelt, who in his order on the subject has nobly voiced the sentiments and determination of the American people.

Larkin Will Take McClure to Court.

Controller Larkin will take County Treasurer McClure into court if he does not soon pay into the city treasury the proportion of liquor license fees due Pittsburgh. Treasurer McClure says that the receipts for licenses are not all in, and that he will not pay any money into the city treasury until they are in. When asked as to his ultimate decision he would make no statement.

League Games Today.

Brooklyn at Exposition park.
New York at Chicago.
Boston at Cincinnati.
Philadelphia at St. Louis.

The people who like to see those close, nerve-racking games of ball which can never be figured out as anybody's contest until the third man is out in the final inning, got a run for their money over at Exposition park yesterday afternoon. It was the opening game of the series with the Brooklyn team, and the Pirates just managed to nose out a victory by a score of 4 to 3.

There was a crowd of 3,000 people out to see the battle for honors and the spectators enjoyed almost every play of the game. Of course, there were one or two plays that were not enjoyed because they were of the wobbly sort, inclined to spoil what would otherwise have been considered a model contest. Two of these plays were attributable to Conroy, who, in the seventh inning, when the score was a tie at one and one, made a miss of a couple of grounders sent his way, but his team mates helped him out and the inning passed without any particular harm having been done. The escape, though, was a very narrow one, and the new Pirate would do well to cut out those heart-rending fumbles.

"KITTY" BRANSFIELD,
Whose Timely Two-Bagger Had Much to Do With the Pirates' Victory.

Clarke Forced to Change His Mind.

Manager Clarke had gone on record that he would make no shift in his quartet of star twirlers and would pitch them in regular order, but he was forced to change his program yesterday, owing to the fact that Deacon Phillippe was slightly under the weather. The deacon tried his hand during the preliminary practice and finding that he was not all there as regarded speed and curves he notified Manager Clarke and the Pirates' leader selected Eddie Doheny for the honor of first facing the eastern contingent.

It was Doheny's first championship game of the season and there was some misgiving among the dyed-in-the-wool rooters when the tall left-hander marched out to the firing line, it being feared that Doheny's lack of work might have a tendency toward wildness, but this thought was soon dispelled and it is but justice to the twirler to state that there has not been a better pitched game from a Pittsburgh standpoint this season. Doheny had a world of speed, upon which he largely depended, using but few curves, and his control is shown by the fact that but one batsman was given a base on balls. Only once did the visitors bunch hits on him and that was in the eighth inning, when a double and two singles netted two runs and tied the score.

Newton Was Free With Passes.

Dr. Eustice Newton, the tall port-sider, who was a Cincinnati Red, was called on to do the pitching for the tribe of Hanlon and a glance at the tabulated score, which shows that the champions only had five hits, will make it appear that he was doing some wonderful pitching, but such was not the case. The doctor was as wild as that March hare that so much is said about, and he had all kinds of trouble in locating the home plate. During the course of the game he furnished nine batters with bases on balls, three of which were turned into runs, so that it was really the doctor's wildness that cost his team the game. Still there is no telling what those nine batsmen would have done had they been given a chance to get a swipe at the ball.

The champions started off with a run in the first inning, when four bases on balls were given and Davis was forced in with the run. The visitors evened up the score in their half of the fourth inning, when McCreery beat out an infield grounder, stole second, went to third on Dahlen's out at first and scored on Irwin's infield single. The game went along with the score until the seventh inning was reached, when the Pirates forged to the front, much to the delight of the crowd, and the cheering could be heard for blocks away.

After Clarke had gone out from Newton to McCreery free passes to first were furnished Conroy and Wagner. Then Bransfield was called on to do his duty and he responded nobly. The first ball pitched was to his liking and he laced it to right center for two bases, Conroy and Wagner scoring on the hit. It looked like a third score, but the best Ritchey could do was a fly to Dahlen and Leach fouled out. The visitors evened the score in the eighth, when Keeler led off with a two-bagger to left and scored on McCreery's single to right. McCreery stole second and scored on Flood's pretty single to right.

Had Visions of Extra Innings.

The spectators had a vision of an extra-inning game, when Zimmer and Doheny, the first two batters in the eighth, proved easy outs. Lefty Davis received hopes by smashing a single in center, then stole second and brought home the winning run when Manager Clarke drove a two-bagger to left. Hanlon's crowd died hard and tried to even up in the ninth, but Doheny was too much for them. Ahearn, the first batter, went out from Ritchey to Bransfield, and big Charley Farrell, who was sent up to bat for Newton, struck out. Dolan's hot grounder was taken care of by Bransfield, and the game was over. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

The uniforms worn by the Brooklyn players look like an outfit from a hand-me-down store, being neither clean nor tasty.

Conroy's two errors in the seventh inning were on grounders which looked easy enough, and the new Pirate blushed and hung his head when he walked into the bench.

In the sixth inning Sheckard's third swipe at the ball was a vicious one. The bat slipped from his hand, and, after nearly tearing a leg off Eddie Doheny, rolled as far out as second base.

Tom McCreery was guilty of a clever play in the third inning when he gathered in Bransfield's hard drive and fired Wagner out at second base. The crowd gave him quite a hand for his fast work.

The Pirates made a neat appearance in their nifty white uniforms just fresh from the maker. These uniforms take the place of the white ones which shrunk up so much in the wash that they could not be worn.

That was a very clever pitching performance put up by Jack Taylor over at Chicago yesterday. He easily outpitched the great Mathewson and shut the Giants out. What a bowl of disappointment will be sent up in New York.

Billy Keeler may lose his batting eye in other league towns, but the moment he strikes Pittsburgh his "lamp-ternies," as Pete Browning was wont to say, are always in good repair. We Willie tripped off a couple of nice ones yesterday, getting a double and a single.

Eddie Doheny pitched a nice game yesterday for his first attempt of the season. He had terrific speed and depended on it all through the game. He only gave one base on balls and struck out six batsmen. Manager Clarke is lucky to have such a clever twirler in reserve.

Tom McCreery worked hard yesterday to down his old comrades, but without success. He had three hits, one being a triple, stole two bases and scored two of the three runs. He might have scored another had he not foolishly attempted to steal third in the eighth inning, thus making a two-base hit.

In the first inning after Dr. Newton had filled the bases with free passes the tall twirler was visibly nervous and consumed a lot of time holding consultations with every player on the Brooklyn infield. The doctor was mighty lucky to get out of that hole with but one run scored against his team.

It will be Tannehill's turn to work today, but as a left hander faced the ex-champions yesterday, Manager Clarke may make a shift and call on either Phillippe or Leever. It was the deacon's turn to twirl yesterday, but he was not feeling any too well, so Doheny was given a chance to try out his arm, which he did with success.

The good words which preceded Flood, the Brooklyn's new second baseman, were not idle ones, as Hanlon has a prize in that boy who fields well, bats hard and runs the bases like lightning. Flood is a much better player than Tom Daly, so that from one point of view at least the American league raid turned out a blessing for Brooklyn.

Umpire Hank O'Day can never forget the game the Pirates won from Louisville which he was umpiring when McCarthy drove a ball through the player's gate in right field and a small boy locked the gate. Every time Hank comes here he casts a look at that gate and if it is open orders it closed. He discovered it open in the fifth inning yesterday and stopped the game until some one pulled it shut.

Billy Dahlen had Chief Zimmer raving mad by attempting to block throws on three different occasions, on two of which he was successful. The chief says William quite a peace of his mind and did not forget a line of talk everything Dal. showed up at the bat. It looked like a mean trick to play on the chief, but it was baseball just the same and Dahlen deserves credit for turning the trick.

If Dr. Newton could only overcome his wildness he would be one of the very best twirlers in the league. That cross-fire delivery of his is a wonder and enough to fool any batsman. The doctor should put in all his spare moments practising control, a thing he sadly lacks at present. With Farrell back of the bat the left hander might have been more steady. It's a mistake to put a young catcher back of an erratic pitcher.

Jack O'Connor and Jimmy Sheckard were victims of Umpire O'Day yesterday. O'Connor was sent to the bench from the coaching lines for insisting on a balk being called on Newton. Sheckard's offense was abusing the umpire for calling him out on strikes in the eighth inning. Sheckard was blue in the face with anger and O'Day told him to take a rest on the bench until he cooled down. Ward took Sheckard's place in left field.

Currie Pitched Well, but Got Poor Support.

CINCINNATI, May 7.—Boston was lucky today and defeated the Cincinnati team by a score of 7 to 3. Magoon was ordered to the bench in the fourth inning for talking back to Brown. Currie pitched a fine game, but was given wretched support. Attendance, 1,000. Score:

MATTY OUTPITCHED.

Taylor of Chicago Had Much the Better of the Battle.

CHICAGO, May 7.—The New Yorks were blanked today in a fast hitting game, Taylor allowing but two singles, while Mathewson was touched for five. The visitors' errors were costly, and Mathewson helped the locals with a wild pitch, a balk and one gift, all of which turned into runs. Attendance, 2,100. Score:

They Took the Opening Game From High School.

The Shadyside and Pittsburgh High school teams met in their first game of the season at Friendship park yesterday and Shadyside proved a winner by a score of 9 to 7.

Shadyside early took the lead in the game itself and was not headed until the last three innings, when the public school lads began to touch up Grange. In the opening inning High school scored three runs, but Bacon fanned wildly, with two men on bases. The next game between the two schools is scheduled for May 21 on the Shadyside grounds. BURNS' CLEVER WORK

He Rode Three Winners and Was Forced to Hard Work on All His Mounts—All Purses Are to Be Increased.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 7.—Short priced horses were much in evidence at Morris Park today. Jim Megibben, at 1 to 2, was the only pronounced favorite to win. Sergeant, in the Bouquet stakes, leading from start to finish, won by a length. The feature of the racing was the riding of Tommy Burns. He piloted three winners and in each race was compelled to ride his hardest to win.

The Westchester Racing association today announced that on and after May 9 it will increase all purses now scheduled at $700 to $800 and all $800 and $900 purses to $1,000. The added money to the Knickerbocker hurdle handicap to be run May 14 will be increased to $800. Summaries:

East Liverpool Team Shaken Up.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., May 7.—(Special.)—The local baseball team has been reorganized and is expected to be one of the strongest amateur teams of eastern Ohio. William Ashbaugh retires from its management, being succeeded by Charles Walsh, who will look after the interests of the team and of his partners, J. J. Rose and Michael Lynch. Blacksmith of Homestead and Boyle of the Winter A. C. of Pittsburgh have been added to the team. Both are considered great acquisitions. Goodwin will be captain. He is a good man for the place, as well as a remarkably successful player. The make-up of the team is now as follows: McShane, pitcher; Gumeling, catcher; Goodwin, shortstop; Heckathorn, first base; Boyle, second base; Davis, third base; Webb, right field; Reary, center, and Sixsmith, left field. The first game will be played by the reorganized team here tomorrow with the Marines of Canton, the first of a series of three games.

Tennis at Braddock.

The enclosed tennis court grounds of the Carnegie A. C. of Braddock, located at Fourth street and Hawkins avenue, North Braddock, were opened yesterday afternoon for the summer season. Two teams have been organized in the Carnegie club, and these will play a series of games with each other, and with other teams in this vicinity.

WUP FRESHMEN LEAD PROCESSION

ARE STRONG BOTH IN BASEBALL AND TRACK ATHLETICS.

Defeated Senior Class Yesterday by a Score of 24 to 19 and Have Strong Team for Next Week's Interclass Field Meet—Good Time for Freshies.

The Freshmen at the Western university seem to be having things pretty much their own way this year, and not only defeated the senior class in a ball game yesterday afternoon, but have every prospect of winning the inter-class field and track meet, which will be decided Friday of next week on the Observatory hill grounds.

The ball game yesterday went to the Freshies by a score of 24 to 19, and the victors have also this season defeated the Sophomore nine, and are acknowledged supreme in the college. O'Brien and Davis pitched for the Freshmen yesterday, and Hurst for the Seniors. Prof. Fetterman has promised a ball to the Freshmen for every game won.

For the field meet next week the interest is very high, and quite a number of students have been out training from the different classes, though it is generally conceded that the Freshman class has about a sure thing.

The class has the strongest all round man in college in McCogney, who is strong in hurdles, sprints, runs, weight and even the jumps. Carpenter, who has made 20 and 4-5 seconds for the 220 and 10 and 4-5 for the 100 yards this season is another star for the youngest class. Davis is good for the 220 and Clay for the half-mile, and Guy R. Jackson in the hurdles are others depended on. The points in the meet will be five for first, two for second and three for third. The class meet last season was won by the Sophomores.

The Shadyside academy track team will tomorrow afternoon hold the trials for the team on the Schenley park oval under the charge of Capt. Armstrong.

YALE BEAT HARVARD.

The Blue Boys Played Fine Golf. Captain Hitchcock Made Low Score.

GARDEN CITY, May 7.—The Yale golf team beat Harvard by an easy margin today at the annual intercollegiate tournament on the links of the Garden City golf club.

By the system of scoring employed—whereby one point is scored for each match won, and one-half a point for each hole up—the New Haven collegians defeated their old rivals 13 points to 5. Four of the six men on the Yale team won their matches and two of the Harvard six won theirs. Of the latter W. E. Egan of Chicago, who played fourth in the amateur championship finals last year at Atlantic City, did the best work.

The lowest card of the day was that of C. Hitchcock, the Yale captain, who, in the afternoon play, made a splendid 75. This is five under bogey and only two more than the record of the Misses Wherry Travis holds. Hitchcock's card for the afternoon was:

Out ..... 4 5 4 5 4 4 4 4 3—37
In ..... 4 5 4 5 4 6 4 5 3—40—75

The weather was hazy in the morning, but not enough to interfere for fast golf, but afternoon a shower threatened and a considerable wind confronted the players on the inplay. Harvard was looked upon by many as the probable winner on today's contest. The Yale men, however, showed superior skill at the game and won a clear-cut victory.

The decisive defeat of Halstead Lindsley, last intercollegiate champion, today by C. C. Shoe of Yale, who will oppose the interest in the play for the individual college championship between Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Pennsylvania and Columbia, which will occupy the last three days of the week.

DENTAL TEAM BEATEN.

Pittsburgh College Won a Neatly Played Game.

Pittsburgh College defeated W. U. P. Dentals yesterday afternoon on the college grounds by the score of 13 to 2. W. U. P. used two twirlers, both of whom were touched freely by the Collegians. Kilgallen pitched good ball for the boys on the Bluff, striking out six batters and keeping hits well scattered. The work of Collins, Mayer and Frankenberry was worthy of note. Score:

Played an Exciting Game.

The elevator and cranemen of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company played an exciting game of ball at East Pittsburgh on Tuesday evening, in which the elevator men came out victorious. The features of the game were the pitching of Hart and the catching of J. Cunningham and the all-around playing of the elevator men. The score:

CLEVER WORK WAS SHOWN BY GEORGE BEYMER

Put Up Prettiest Exhibition Yet Shown in Billiard Tourney.

HAD SKILL OF AN EXPERT

Made the Best Run and Had Highest Average Yet Made, and Won His Game With Ease—Marshall Ran Away From Billings.

For an exhibition of how billiards should be played, the game put up by George Beymer when he opposed Ben Phillippi at the Great Northern billiard hall yesterday afternoon was a beautiful illustration.

For the first time since the tournament began, Beymer played in his accustomed style, and anyone who has watched his game knows that when he is at his best, there is no local man who has any license to try any experiments with him. He had his draw down to perfection and his position play was simply a treat. In his thirteenth inning he ran 11 and on his next turn at the ivories he knocked out 40 as pretty carooms as one would like to look at.

On his forty-first shot one ball came back from the rail so quickly it caught the other object ball and prevented it from going out of balk. Had he not met with this unlooked for kiss the chances are his run would have been considerably larger.

In the six innings from the thirteenth to the nineteenth he made 83 billiards, or an average of 15½, which is remarkably steady playing for a man who does not follow billiards as a business. He won his game from Phillippe easily.

In the evening Marshall, scratch, experienced very little trouble in disposing of Billings, 170. The latter is the only one who has not yet won a game.

This afternoon Powers, 180, and Billings, 170, will give their exhibition, while the contest par excellence will take place in the evening, with English and Roberts as opposing players. Scores:

NOTICES.

AT a special meeting of the Board of Fire Underwriters of Allegheny county, held at their rooms this 7th day of May, the following resolutions were adopted:

"In the death of August Ammon a career of one who possessed a pronounced individuality is ended. Active and shrewd in the public and business affairs, his advice and experience were solicited. Appreciated by his fellow citizens, positions of honor and trust were thrust upon him, even today his remains are followed to the grave by men high in the repute of the state. The kindly, strong face known so well to all, will be known no more upon earth forever.

"We extend our sympathy to the sons and daughters who are called upon to give up an affectionate father, and we bear testimony to the truth that we have been glad of the privilege of calling their father, our friend."

CRITICISM FOR UNITED STATES STEEL COMPANY

Wall Street Believes That $10,000,000 Is Too Much for Underwriters.

MONTH TAKEN TO EARN IT

The Sum, However, Is Only 4 Per Cent of the Face Value of the Securities and Money Involved. Large Net Earnings for May.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, May 7.—The contract that is to be entered into between the United States Steel Corporation and the underwriting syndicate, whereby the latter is to receive 4 per cent or $10,000,000 for guaranteeing the financial success of the forthcoming $250,000,000 bond issue, is criticised in the Wall street community. Only last week a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. said that the underwriters were not to receive any such commission as this for their risk and trouble. It seems to be the general opinion that half the amount now named would be sufficient to pay the underwriting syndicate for its trouble and guarantee.

The net earnings of the United States Steel Corporation may be said roughly to average about $10,000,000 a month, and the thought of an amount of money roundly equivalent to the combine's net earnings for a month being paid to an underwriting syndicate provokes some dissatisfaction in advance. The syndicate is or will be composed of men who own a great deal of United States Steel preferred, in surrendering which, together with 20 per cent of cash for conversion, the underwriters will be doing only what any individual outside stockholder may do, except that in the case of the underwriter he gets 4 per cent bonus on the transaction. The difference between the underwriter and outside stockholder is that the former guarantees the success of the bond issue, but present indications are that the syndicate will not be called upon to advance a great deal of money in excess of 20 per cent cash of all that the preferred stockholders must deliver in order to take advantage of the conversion.

As nearly as it can be calculated the underwriting syndicate that originally guaranteed the stock market success of the United States Steel Corporation has realized between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 profit. This original syndicate has been continued in existence, and its members are identical with those of the syndicate that is now to underwrite the bond issue. Unless public sentiment toward the United States Steel Corporation has undergone a very decided change, and there is no indication that it has, the underwriters of the bond issue will have very little to do except to surrender a minimum of $100,000,000 United States Steel preferred, and as much more as there is to be converted into bonds to provide in cash 20 per cent of whatever amount of stock they deliver and to collect 4 per cent profit on the transaction.

There is this to be said on the other side, that although $10,000,000 seems an enormous amount of money to pay in commissions to an underwriting syndicate it is only 4 per cent of the face value of the securities and money involved. When it is considered on a percentage basis, the commission seems to be not extravagant. It is only when it is put in a round sum of money that it seems a great deal indeed.

It is to be remembered that a bond issue of $250,000,000 is a colossal transaction—a consideration that in this generation of billion-dollar things is likely to be overlooked.

A representative of the United States Steel Corporation said today that the combine's earnings for May are likely to exceed that previous records. They are expected to be in excess of $13,000,000. The increase of earnings for the current month is predicated upon a large ore movement, improved transportation facilities, whereby not only finished tonnage can be moved more readily, but coke and other supplies can be transported in adequate quantities, and especially upon the fact that the books of some of the constituent companies are now for the first time in the history of unprofitable contracts that were taken before the organization of the United States Steel Corporation, when competition was very severe, and when concerns, such as the American Bridge Company, for example, were taking business at very low figures in order to outdo rival interests.

Tennessee Report Disappointing.

The annual report of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company is a disappointment to stockholders who have been led to hope for something better. Last year was, perhaps, the most prosperous year the iron and steel trade ever experienced, but it can be said that this prosperity is by no means reflected in the report of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company. The net earnings of the corporation for the year ended December 31, aggregated $862,448, or less than 4 per cent on the outstanding common stock. It is safe to say from the foregoing figures that the Tennessee Coal & Iron company would not be justified in resuming dividends on the common stock. The depression in the stock of the company today is sufficient proof that the report was regarded as very unfavorable by the investment public. Notwithstanding the continual boosting of certain interests of the increased earning power of the corporation, the gross earnings last year were less than $1,725,000, as compared with $2,347,027 in the preceding year. This showing, in the face of one of the most prosperous years the iron and steel industry has ever enjoyed, is not explained. Another item in the statement that attracted considerable attention was depreciation. The amount written off last year aggregated $80,447, as compared with $789,055 in the preceding year, a decrease of $650,608. If the market price of pig iron during 1900 continued through 1901, the net earnings of the company would have been $1,705,228 greater than now shown. An examination showed that many of the plants for manufacturing and the equipment at others were overhauled, and the accounts receivable included large sums that were in no sense receivable. In the readjustment, plants, investments, accounts and bills receivable were reduced by the sum of $6,424,000.

Will Discuss Consolidation.

A meeting of the representatives of cotton mills mentioned in connection with the $60,000,000 cotton combine will be held in the south tomorrow, when the question of consolidation will be discussed. F. M. Shepard, of Shepard, Nassau street, this city, who is promoting the combine, today said that it would be at least a week before he could give out any statement as to whether or not the deal would be put through.

Very Little Oil or None

Nothing better than ordinary producers, interspersed with dusters were completed in the lower southwest fields yesterday. None of the number was important as to location, all being located inside of defined limits.

In the Fish creek district, Marshall county, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 on the Nathan Shepherd farm and No. 1 on the Bonar heirs' farm each produced 65 barrels the first 24 hours. No. 2 on the Nathan Shepherd farm is holding up at 240 barrels, and in the Bonar heirs' farm the second well is a 75-barrel heirs' farm at 210 barrels a day. These two wells are the best producers at the present time in Marshall county. Neither has been shot.

On Richwood Run, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia Company's No. 18 on the John Mills tract has declined to 100 barrels a day, and the Kanawha Oil Company's No. 20 on the same tract is holding up at 180 barrels a day.

In the southern end of the Stout district, in Doddridge county, the South Penn Company has completed and shot its No. 4 on the L. A. Bode farm and has a 18-barrel pumper.

On McFarlan creek, Murphy district, Ritchie county, the Shawmut Oil Company has completed its No. 5 on the A. H. Ayers farm and has a show for a small pumper in the salt sand.

In the Meade district, Tyler county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled in its No. 16 on the Gordon farm and a 45-barrel gusher and has a show for a 50-barrel producer in the Big Injun sand. On the same stream and in the same district Lindsey & Company, Ohio, are drilling in the sand at their test well on the Cramer heirs' farm.

Southeastern Ohio.

On the Ohio side in the Rinards Mills district in Washington county, the Carter Oil Company has drilled in its No. 2 on the Enock Cline farm and the well is flowing at the rate of eight barrels an hour from the Big Injun sand. No. 5 on this farm is still holding up at 1,000 barrels a day.

In the Macksburg field Longfellow Bros. have drilled their No. 14 on the Hall heirs' farm into the 500-foot sand and have a gasser in that formation.

P. Howler has drilled a test well on his own farm into the Berea grit and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper.

In the Marietta district Bartmess & Co. have completed No. 4 on the William Schilling farm and have a very small pumper.

In the Lima district the Ohio Oil Company has completed its test well in the Keener sand on the S. Archer farm and will have a 5 or 10-barrel pumper from that formation.

In the Shawnee district the Ohio

Local Stocks Were Dull and Irregular, Closing Barely Steady

THE BULLS AND BEARS IN FIRE PROOFING SCRAP

A Majority of the Directors Are Said to Favor Increased Dividend Rate.

ELECTRIC SECONDS SLUMP

Westinghouse Airbrake Advanced to 188, but Eased Off to 187—Window Glass Was Steady. Steel Stocks Dull and Coalers Quiet.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday, with the exception of two or three issues, was very dull, and at the close, barely steady. As a general thing the price movements were decidedly erratic and irregular, fractional declines ruling at the close. The bulls and bears on National Fire Proofing common had another day of scrapping, due doubtless to the many conflicting reports regarding the probable action of the board of directors at today's meeting, when the quarterly dividend on the stock is to be declared. Will it be increased to 3¾ per cent? Will it remain at 1¼ per cent? Will a $7 cash dividend be declared and the regular quarterly dividend be shut at 1¼ per cent? Or will all remain as it has been? These are the questions that puzzle the street and anger the investors and operators. Certain directors are alleged to have urged their warm personal friends to buy the stock when it was between 36 and 37 because they knew the stock would go upon a 7 per cent basis and these gentlemen are said to be very hot over a possible "throw down" of their promises. It was stated yesterday by a gentleman undoubtedly in a position to know exactly what he was talking about that 10 of the directors favored the increase to a 7 per cent basis, and that they, being a majority, would see their wishes carried out. The matter of a cash dividend of any kind is considered as extremely improbable for a number of reasons. When the new stock was offered subscribers any surplus the company then had was a part of the assets upon which the subscriptions were based, and should a cash dividend be declared in which the subscribers did not, or could not, participate it is probable, or possible, an injunction might be obtained to prevent its payment. As the matter stood at the close of the market yesterday not even the directors themselves knew what would happen today. The stock opened at 34⅝ and was forced down to 33½. Then it rallied and closed at 34¼, ½ below Tuesday's finish. The preferred was dull and unchanged at 41@40½ for 205 shares.

In the remainder of the list chief attention was attracted to the Westinghouse group. Electric seconds opened strong at 110, broke to 108, rallied ½ and lost it again, closing at 108 sales and 107¾ asked. The firsts were not quoted all day. Airbrake opened at 187½ and advanced to 188, but broke at the close to 187, which left the stock $2 higher than Tuesday. These movements were in sympathy with Wall street. Switch & Signal common was firmer at 94, a gain of $1. Window Glass was steady but dull, the steel stocks being about in the same condition. Commercial National bank advanced $5 to $220, a new high record, and was strong. Bonds were quiet and steady. In the quotations Second National bank of Pittsburgh advanced $10 to $760 bid, a new high record. There were no other important changes.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges decreased $1,763,403 12.

3,340 Fire Proofing common sold. Closed 34¼. The preferred closed at 40½.

Commercial National bank made a new high record at $220, a gain of $5.

Westinghouse Electric seconds closed 1½ lower at 108. The firsts did not sell.

Westinghouse Airbrake closed at 187, a gain of $2.

United States Steel closed at 41⅝ and the preferred at 92¼.

Switch and Signal common was $1 higher at 94.

Crucible Steel closed at 22⅝ and the preferred at 86¼.

Window Glass common closed at 61¾.

The coal stocks were very dull. Bonds were quiet.

Financial Drift.

Oakland bank was quoted at 65 bid, an advance of $15.

Hill sold 200 Westinghouse Airbrake at 187 at the close.

Sproul offered 50 United Realty Trust at 138 at the opening.

North American Savings Company offered at 88 with 85 bid.

Hill & Co. offered 1,000 Marsden common near the close at 3¾.

At the close 85 was bid for 100 Railway Steel Spring preferred.

McMullin sold Carothers $15,000 Philadelphia Company new 5s at 105¾.

The last sale of the day was five shares Philadelphia & Nashville common at 94½.

Near the close 187 was bid for 40 Westinghouse Airbrake and 187½ was asked.

The Mortgage Banking Company is clearing through the Monongahela National bank.

It is said that $5,000,000 was paid in on the Louisville & Nashville new stock yesterday.

Sheer Bros. bought Commercial National bank from Carothers at $220, a new high record.

Standard Chain common offered at 9½.

H. D. Lotz was still the seller of Pittsburgh Brewing common, disposing of 135 shares at the opening.

The first trade of the day was 100 Fire Proofing common at 34⅝, Martin selling 200 at that price.

Morris & Brown and Preston, Watt & Schorer were the only buyers of Union Switch and Signal common.

Robinson Bros. were the principal buyers of Westinghouse Airbrake and sellers of Westinghouse Electric seconds.

Pittsburgh certificates for Philadelphia Company stocks are now a good delivery on the Philadelphia stock exchange.

During the forenoon only two trades were made in American Window Glass common, Robinson Bros. selling 200 and then 50 shares at 61¾.

Robinson & Orr were the sold buyers of Federal National bank at the opening, getting 20 shares at 137. At the close a more offered at that price.

Hill & Co. offered 500 United States Steel common at 41½ and 600 Window Glass preferred at 95. Later Sproul offered 500 United States Steel at 41½ and Hill offered them at 41⅝.

There were reports that Illinois Central might lease the Louisville & Nashville and guarantee 6 per cent on the latter. This, however, was denied by people connected with the Illinois Central railroad.

Stockholders of the Second National bank of Allegheny authorized an increase in the capital stock from $250,000 to $500,000. The new stock is to be issued at $550 per share, of which $250 per share will go to surplus account and increase that item from $360,000 to $760,000.

The advance in Southern Railway and heavy trading in the common was accompanied by reports that there will soon be a deal with Louisville & Nashville, and there are further intimations that the plan is to reduce the Southern's common issue from $120,000,000 to $60,000,000 may soon be carried out.

Sloan wired Sproul & Co.: "I hear from usually well informed quarters that an announcement will be made very soon about the Southern Securities Company, which will combine Louisville & Nashville, Southern Railway and Cincinnati, Indianapolis & Louisville. The announcement is to be made as soon as the Northern Securities decision is given, which we understand will be sooner than expected, and is to be favorable. This should be a great bull point on the market if true.

Saturday the allotments to the stock of the new Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company will be made and the privilege extended to stockholders of the Commercial National bank to exchange their holdings for stocks of the Commonwealth Company will then be withdrawn and immediate steps taken to liquidate the assets and business of the Commercial National bank, which is to be absorbed by the trust company. The capital of the latter is $1,500,000, and will be allotted at $200 a share.

The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company has bought out the entire interests of the five natural gas companies in Waynesburg and the Waynesburg and the Citizens companies. The purchase price being a little over $300,000. By this all the rights and interests of the latter companies were transferred to the Pittsburgh company. A new board of directors, composed of members of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company will be elected. A number of gas wells and the supplying of 1,200 gas consumers in Waynesburg and vicinity is included in the rights of the purchase.

The Chicago Inter Ocean contained this about the Pressed Steel Car Company: "A. C. McCordic, president of the Illinois Car and Equipment Company, left yesterday for New York to complete the deal by which the company will be consolidated with the Pressed Steel Car Company. Since the decision in the Rubino suit for an injunction to restrain the Pressed Steel Car Company from acquiring the securities of other companies rapid progress has been made in the consolidation of the two companies. A company with a capital of $1,250,000 has been formed to lease the Hegewisch plant from the English bondholders, who are now in possession, and this company will in turn sell 75 per cent of its stock to the Pressed Steel Car Company. The capacity of the Hegewisch plant is about 60 cars daily. It will be increased to 60 cars daily within a short time. The frames for the cars will be sent direct from Pittsburgh, and the cars put together. The plant, when completed, will be a repair shops of the Pressed Steel Car Company, which now has to send its cars to Pittsburgh for repairs. Tracks of six roads enter the Hegewisch plant."

Topics of the Day said: "There has been some very bullish talk on Pressed Steel Car of late, and it asserted that the preferred will sell much higher. For the past year the earnings are very gratifying and if they continue at the present rate gross earnings should exceed $30,000,000. The net result should be about $5,000,000. We consider the preferred stock very cheap."

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

There is continued firmness in the butter market, demand for table grades absorbing all arrivals. The egg situation is weaker, demand not being so heavy during the warmer weather of the last few days. While an occasional sale is made at 17½ cents, from 16½ to 17 cents seems to be the real range of quotations governing the majority of sales, the lower price ruling in transactions for good round lots.

Urgent Steel Market Lifting Prices

SHARP ADVANCE IN ALL BUILDING HARDWARE LINES

Recently Combined Jobbers Put Up Prices on Average of 20 Per Cent.

PROMPT RAILS AT PREMIUM

Furnaces Are Operating to Maximum Capacity and Operators Have No Reason to Look for Labor Trouble Next Month—Iron Prices Higher.

Builders' hardware prices have been sent up fully 20 per cent within a few weeks. This is said to have been arranged before the new consolidation of hardware interests was perfected, and is simply the sequence of the higher prices in all raw materials.

The anxious consumers of rails, new, old for relaying and old for rerolling, are met by prices far above those of a short time ago, although for months it has been known that the new production for most of the year has been contracted for and that old rails are scarce.

Nearly all furnaces are running to the maximum of their capacity. The car service has so much improved that raw materials, especially coke, are brought to the furnace stacks with sufficient regularity to make this possible. The furnace operators give little credit to the report that the organized blast furnace workers will on June 1 stand out for an eight-hour, instead of the time-honored 12-hour, working rule. An important group of the furnace operators has had no official notice of such intention.

Furnace Strike Would Be Futile.

Such a move at this time would be simply futile. The work of the blast furnace worker is merely labor, and radical action on a demand for four hours' less work at the

A FINE HOUSE IN ALLEGHENY BRINGS $45,000

Jacob Kaufmann Sells His Residence at No. 913 Irwin Avenue.

TWO GOOD ACREAGE DEALS

Troy Hill Property Brings $11,000. A $50,000 Summer Residence Is Planned—Three Houses for Westinghouse Officials.

Jacob Kaufmann of Kaufmann Bros. has disposed of his Allegheny residence for a price approximating $45,000. The property is located at No. 913 Irwin avenue, having a frontage of 40 feet in the west side of the avenue and a depth of 220 feet. It adjoins the William Semple and the H. S. Fleming properties. Since Mr. Kaufmann purchased it, several years ago, he has made extensive improvements so that it is now one of the best residence properties on the North Side. The residence is a 14-room brick house, handsomely finished throughout and provided with all modern improvements. The property was purchased by C. G. Dellenbaugh, who will occupy it as a home. This is the second large sale of residence property in Allegheny during the last two weeks at prices that show that there is a growing demand for home sites on the principal streets.

John W. Rirker has sold his plan of lots at Fair Haven for $50,000. The plan consists of 340 lots, 30x100 feet each. The purchasers are three Pittsburgh capitalists, who propose to put the property on the market at once.

Railroad Preparing for Business.

The Pittsburgh Terminal & Coal railroad has purchased the Robert Smith farm of 160 acres at Bethel for $40,000, or $250 an acre. The farm is situated only a short distance from Bethel church and will be used for round houses and yards. The railroad bought two other farms in that vicinity last week and is preparing to sink shafts to develop coal lands.

Through the agency of W. F. Weitershausen, George H. Shickler has sold the old William Eberhart homestead on Troy Hill, Allegheny, for $11,000. The property is part of old Washington park and was secured by Mr. Shickler last winter in exchange for East End residences. It consists of a lot facing 148 feet in Hazel street, between Cowley and Forest avenues, Thirteenth ward, and extending back 400 feet. The residence on the lot is a 12-room brick dwelling. John Bader, the florist, is the purchaser and it is understood he contemplates extensive improvements.

Will Build Near Summer Resort.

Through the agency of W. L. Scott & Co., H. P. Wyatt, proprietor of Frank's hotel, Ligonier, has sold a tract of 424 acres for $25,500. The farm is situated five miles east of Ligonier and adjoins the Kissell Springs property, which is now a noted summer resort. Besides having a large amount of valuable timber on it the farm is underlaid with three veins of coal. The property was secured by a prominent business man of Allegheny, who contemplates building a summer residence and making other improvements to cost at least $30,000.

An improved lot in the east side of Craig street, near Center avenue, has been transferred from Blanche M. Belfour to Laura P. Carpeh. The lot measures 50x140 feet and the consideration was $15,000.

W. A. Scott, Jr., has sold to Michael Luponitz and Louis Siff a lot, 20x99 feet, in the north side of Fifth avenue, near Vine street, Eleventh ward, for $15,000. The lot is improved with a three-story brick house.

NEAR DEATH'S DOOR HIMSELF.

J. Ladd Stacks of This City Unable to Go to Dying Father.

Owing to the fact that he is near death's door himself, J. Ladd Stacks of No. 721 Forbes street will be unable to go to the bedside of his father, Frank Stacks, who is dying at his home in Chicago. Yesterday afternoon the bureau of detectives received a telegram from a brother of Stacks in Chicago, asking that he be located in this city and notified of his father's condition.

Detective Albert Swinehart, who was detailed on the case, after learning of J. Ladd Stacks' condition, sent word to Chicago that the father's dying request could not be complied with.

It was learned at J. Ladd Stacks' residence that he had not heard from his father for almost a year. He is a broker and has been located in Pittsburgh for seven years. Stacks is 28 years old and married, and his wife is attending him. Mrs. Stacks also sent word to Chicago stating the condition of her husband.
